Living in the Overflow

Have you ever noticed how quickly life feels empty when we neglect God's Word? In Acts 2:42, the early church was described as being devoted to the apostles' teaching, to fellowship, to breaking bread, and to prayer. That word "devoted" is more than a casual interest — it means a deep, daily commitment.

Today, many believers are spiritually starving, living on what I call a "snack diet" of Scripture. A quick verse here, a quick prayer there — but nothing that truly fills us. Jesus reminds us in Matthew 4:4, "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that comes from the mouth of God." Real devotion means feasting on the Word until it overflows into every part of our lives.

When we live in the overflow, we don't just take in information — we're transformed. That transformation shows up in how we speak, how we serve, and how we love.

This week, practice the "Power of Four": read one chapter of Scripture at least four days. Let God's Word nourish your soul, and watch how His truth begins to overflow into your everyday life.
