MISSION IN FOCUS

JOHN & SARAH KRAUSS, RESTORATION FARM MINISTRIES

The farm's purpose is to glorify God by restoring cross-cultural servants of Christ to thrive spiritually and serve effectively. This summer we hosted a high school youth group that came to serve the farm as their summer mission trip. They were able to accomplish several large projects:

- The pavilion, playground & farmhouse was power washed, sanded & re-stained
- The slide was re-placed on the playground
- The garden was pruned and weeded
- A Murphy bed was installed in the pastoral coach's room in the ministry center
- The farm truck received overdue maintenance
- Tree limbs were pruned around the agricultural fields for equipment to get through

Prayer Requests

- A family of 5 just arrived from a war-torn area of the world for a time of restoration – prayers for open hearts to hear from the Lord
- A family of 7 will arrive in August for an extended debrief – their kids are 2 to 13 years old, so prayers that I can effectively provide activities to help them all process well
- Our upcoming retreat in November that we host will fill up with workers needing refreshment and renewal from the Lord
- Pray that doors continue to open so unreached people groups can respond to the gospel.

A FAMILY AFFAIR

DENISE KELLOG & WHITNEY AKPI

I was living in Taiwan when my niece, Whitney Akpi, was born there. What a joy it's been to stay connected over the years and watch her love for the Lord and heart for missions deepen. Today, Whitney and her husband Kossi—originally from Togo—live in Malawi with their three beautiful children, serving the least and the lost in one of the world's poorest nations, and a place dear to our LC3 family.

Over the past seven years, they've faithfully served in both the city of Blantyre and the rural village of Agabu. They've built bridges, formed meaningful partnerships, and seen lives touched. They've helped rescue 18 boys from life on the streets—giving them safety, food, education, vocational skills, and the hope of Christ. They also partnered with efforts to build schools, a medical clinic, and agricultural projects.

Despite their dedication, partnerships, and hard work, Whitney and Kossi began to see that many efforts weren't creating lasting change. After years of prayer for a solution, God opened a door to a powerful partnership with Family Hope International (FHI).

I'm thrilled to share that Whitney and Kossi will now serve as national directors of FHI in Malawi. FHI has seen great success in Ethiopia and Kenya, helping families in extreme poverty by first providing essential support, then offering training to launch sustainable businesses. This is the kind of long-term impact the Akpis have been praying for.

Like Jesus—who set the oppressed and sick free both physically and spiritually—this partnership gives Whitney and Kossi the opportunity to offer both spiritual hope and physical freedom in His Name.

As an aunt and someone passionate about the Great Commission, it brings me great joy to see our LC3 family—102 years strong—partnering in this Kingdom work.
