2025 Year in Review

A NOTE FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Church Family,

Tom Landry famously said, “The job of a football coach is to make men do what they don’t want to do in order to achieve what they’ve always wanted to be.” In much the same way, following Jesus often calls us to embrace practices that do not come naturally, so that we might become what we truly desire to be—more like Christ.

Most Christians are familiar with the major spiritual rhythms of the faith—prayer, Bible reading, and corporate worship. These practices are foundational and indispensable. Yet there are also quieter, less-talked-about rhythms that have shaped God’s people for centuries—rhythms like confession, fasting, feasting, and silence. These practices are often forgotten, not because they lack value, but because they require intentionality, patience, and trust. At times, disciplines such as silence, solitude, or confession may feel foreign to us, perhaps even associated with mystics or monastic traditions. But the Protestant tradition itself is rich with these practices. A plethora of English Puritans as well as Andrew Fuller, Jonathan Edwards, George Müller, A.W. Tozer and many more—all understood that spiritual depth is not produced by novelty, but by faithful, time-tested rhythms of grace. These disciplines are not legalistic or joy-robbing; they are life-giving. Their aim is simple: to glorify God and to enjoy Him.

Donald Whitney said, “The spiritual disciplines are the God-ordained means by which we bring ourselves before God so that He can transform us.” These rhythms do not earn God’s favor; they position us to receive His transforming grace.

In January, we will explore a few of these “forgotten” practices together through a sermon series called, “Forgotten Rhythms.” Here’s the breakdown:

- January 4 – Confession & Restoration
- January 11 – Work & Rest
- January 18 – Fasting & Feasting
- January 25 – Silence & Solitude

Why does this series matter? Because we are shaped more by the repeated rhythms of our lives than by occasional mountaintop experiences. Formation happens slowly, quietly, and faithfully over time. As G.K. Chesterton, “You cannot grow a beard in a moment of passion”. In other words, true spiritual growth is rarely dramatic—but it is deeply transformative. If we desire godliness, then we must cultivate habits that form us into godly people. As the Apostle Paul exhorts, “Discipline yourself for the purpose of godliness” (1 Tim 4:7). My prayer is that this series will help us recover these forgotten rhythms, not as burdens to bear, but as pathways to deeper joy and greater freedom in Christ.

- Pastor Ben

2025 Missions Festival RECAP

The heart behind our Missions Festival is to help us see our role in God's story of redemption. This year's kickoff was exciting! We shared snacks from around the world and heard Carl Porter challenge us to live on mission in everyday life. Our FBC ministry and missions partners also set up booths around the fellowship hall giving us a clearer picture of how God is working through our partners.

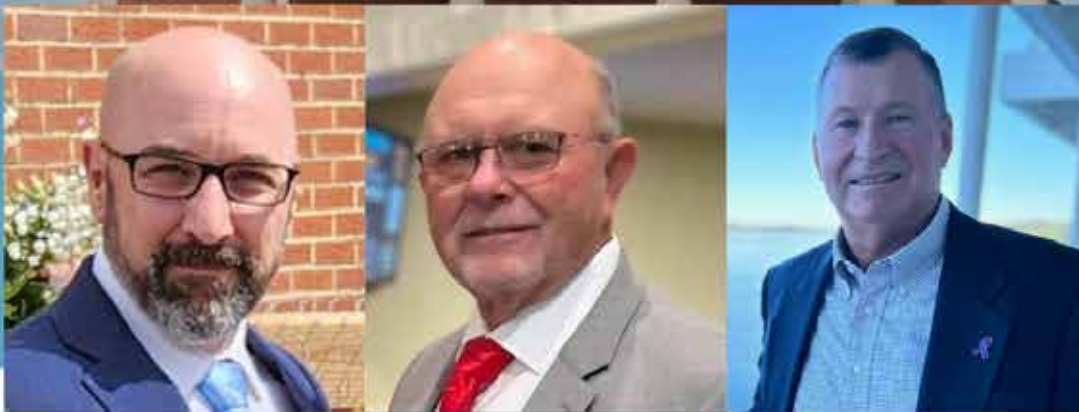

On Tuesday, Noah Madden and Reed Skinner led a lunch seminar on church planting and mission sending, and Wednesday night we heard more from the Skinners on mission strategy and personal testimonies. Throughout the week, we had a drop-in prayer trail on the missions hall, with prayer prompts to pray for local needs, then state and national work, and finally global missions. Together we lifted up missionaries, church staff, elected officials, military personnel, NAMB and IMB projects, and many others.

My prayer is that little by little our hearts keep growing until "glorifying God by making disciples of all nations" isn't just our mission statement, it's who we are, right here on Main Street and to the ends of the earth.

Elementary Focus

A DEEP DIVE INTO THE SPIRITUAL
AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT OF OUR 1ST GRADERS

FIRST GRADERS (ages 6–7) are full of energy, curiosity, and big questions. They are learning to balance speed with neatness, distinguish left from right, and navigate both real and imagined worries. They enjoy the outdoors, small cozy spaces, and opportunities to share what they know. First graders love jokes, guessing games, asking questions, and learning through hands-on discovery. They often strive for “perfect” work, erase frequently, and like to complete tasks from start to finish. Repetition, exploration, and chances to figure out how things work are especially helpful at this age.

Spiritually, first graders usually see Jesus as a friend and helper. They enjoy Bible stories and may begin forming simple understandings about God, sin, and the gospel. Though they often know the “right answers,” they’re just starting to understand how to apply them. This age is full of meaningful curiosity, and children may ask honest questions about why Jesus died, what sin means, and how people become Christians. It’s a wonderful season to nurture their growing faith and guide their discoveries with patience and clarity.

Growing in

Preschool Focus

A DEEP DIVE INTO THE SPIRITUAL
AND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT OF OUR ONE YEAR OLDS

ONE YEAR OLDS grow at an incredible pace. Physically, they're becoming explorers—pulling up, cruising, and taking early steps as their balance and coordination improve. Their hands grow more skilled too, allowing them to stack, scribble, and feed themselves with growing confidence.

Spiritually, one-year-olds begin forming a sense of trust, wonder, and connection. Through warm routines—like songs, stories, and simple rituals—they learn about love, comfort, and belonging.

These early milestones help shape curious minds and caring hearts as they continue their amazing journey of growth.

Now Accepting Applications for Summer Camp Chaperones

Each summer, FBCE hosts several trips and events that require adults who are willing and able to invest in the lives of our children and students. Chaperoning one of these trips requires an investment of time, money, loss of sleep, and preparation, but the reward of pouring into the lives of our next generation is immeasurable.

Would you prayerfully consider chaperoning one of these events? If you would like more information, reach out to one of our age-group ministers about specific information and requirements.

FBCE Quilting Ministry

The Quilting Ministry of FBCE is composed of 12 ladies who want to share the love of Christ with others by giving out quilts made with love. They meet every Thursday afternoon downstairs in room A-105 at 1:00 PM. Each of these beautiful quilts are painstakingly pieced together, either by hand, machine, or sometimes both. Hours of planning and labor go into each quilt.

This past year, these ladies crafted 118 quilts. Twenty-four quilts were auctioned off during our Missions Week for a total of $4,269. Proceeds are to be given directly to the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. The remaining quilts were donated to organizations and causes around the United States. Some of the recipients include:

- Members of FBCE that are Homebound or Nursing Home residents
- Dayspring Hospice
- Enterprise Police Department
- WEPS
- Enhabit Home Health and Hospice Care
- Hand Up Enterprise (took several quilts to victims of the Texas floods)
- Appalachian Quilting Ministries
- Coffee County Family Services

If you are interested in participating in this ministry, or would like to donate cotton fabrics and sewing materials, please come to the Main Office and we will put you in contact with one of the ladies in this group.

Employee SPOTLIGHT

But I do not account my life of any value nor as precious to myself, if only I may finish my course and the ministry that I received from the Lord Jesus, to testify to the gospel of the grace of God.

Acts 20:24 (ESV)

Meet Harrison Smith!

Harrison is our Minister of Outreach & Missions.

Tell us a little about yourself and family

I grew up in Clayton, NC, have been married to Lauren for 13 years and we have 4 kids. I have undergrad degrees in Political Science & Broadcast Communications from Lenoir-Rhyne University. I have a master's degree in ethics from the Kunming University of Science and Technology. I'd like to run for public office one day. I get lots of recognition for things I accomplish but many people around me deserve most of the credit, especially my wife, Lauren.

Coke or Sweet Tea?

Dr. Pepper

What's your go-to comfort food?

Taco Bell soft tacos or no-bake cookies

What could we find you doing outside of work?

Driving kids to activities, watching Jeopardy or sports, or making social media videos.

Why is Missions and Outreach so important to FBCE?

Why is it a strong passion for you?

When I think about what it took for me to know Christ, I'm overwhelmed by what regular, ordinary people did over the last 2000 years. Yes, we know of a few famous missionaries and evangelist, but most of the work came starting as far back as right after the resurrection of Christ - just regular laypeople that talked about Jesus with those in their communities and to their children, often in the face of hardships, persecution and death. Because of them, in 1993 I had the chance to hear and respond to the Gospel. I want each member of FBCE to be equipped, empowered and encouraged to live their lives on mission to reach the lost so that in the coming generations, there are five year olds, just like me, that get to hear the gospel in Enterprise and around the world because of the faithfulness of our church, ultimately all for God's glory.

What do you love most about working at FBCE?

It's a big church with a small church feel. There's so much relational intentionality from people that I feel like I know everyone, and they know me, after only 5 months.

Best advice to give someone newly walking with Christ?

When you fail or feel like you've messed up, or skipped reading your Bible for a few days or weeks, don't try to make up for lost time, just start again today. Confess your mistakes and walk in the freedom of the Holy Spirit anew, one day at a time.
