A MESSAGE FROM THE ELDERS:

In his inaugural address, delivered Jan 20, 1961, President John F. Kennedy proclaimed that “... here on earth, God’s work must truly be our own.” His speech was a powerful call to action, urging citizens to engage in making the world a better place.

In a similar way, God is calling his people to action today in order to spread his kingdom. And while the spreading of God’s kingdom certainly makes the world a better place, it also – and more importantly - leads to the eternal salvation and happiness of all who believe. President Kennedy’s goal was to motivate people to work for the common good. But you and I ARE God’s work as the following passages of scripture attest.

“For we are God’s workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works...” (Eph 2:10)

“...you also, like living stones are being built into a spiritual house...” (1Pe 2:5)

“...being confident of this, that he who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.” (Php 1:6)

In the beginning, God’s work culminated in creating man in his own image (Gen 1:26-27). Today, each of us should view ourselves as a work-of-God in progress as we are re-created in the image of Jesus – to be like him and to act like him in every situation.

“...continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose.” (Php 2:13)

-Your Shepherds

MISSION CORNER:

Here is an excerpt from The Coffee Oasis newsletter. You can find the full article and more on their website. As you read, be encouraged about the good works that are being done because of your financial support: Youth update: Jess* was able to move into new housing! Jess spent a month couch-surfing before staying in the Bremerton youth shelter for the full 150 days. During that time, she found support from her case manager and a job. "I just hope to have stable housing and a stable place; a place where I can be happy and be me." Jess was happy to share that she is now a resident of Evergreen Brightstart, a transitional housing program in Bremerton, where she has found easy access to work and community support. “They have a lot of little events to get to know each other and activities. We did painting pots and origami. We have movie nights... I have connections with one of the resident managers. We have another case manager we can meet with weekly to talk about how we’re feeling and what we plan to do and update on our life.” We are greatly encouraged by Jess' perseverance! You can read more about her journey and the resources you helped provide with your donations here.

We are all looking forward to Free Day (8/16) here at CK in the spirit of reaching out to the community and demonstrating our love for the lost. But, did you know that there are many other events going on this summer that will give increase to the Kingdom? One of these is Junk in the Trunk (which is on the same day)! Please spread the word about this opportunity to your friends and at Free Day. This is a great opportunity to support Freedom 13 in their commission to end child trafficking through purchase of carefully curated items at their booth.
