QUESTION 1

How does understanding our identity as God's chosen people impact our daily lives and sense of purpose?

NOTES:

[illegible]

QUESTION 2

In what ways does the concept of being 'born again' challenge or transform our understanding of spiritual growth and renewal?

QUESTION 3

How can we reconcile the tension between God's sovereignty in salvation and human responsibility to respond to the gospel?

QUESTION 4

What are some practical ways we can live out the 'living hope' Peter speaks of, especially in the face of suffering or challenges?

QUESTION 5

How does the mystery of salvation, as described in the sermon, influence our approach to evangelism and sharing our faith with others?

[illegible]

In light of the sermon's discussion on election and foreknowledge, how can we maintain humility while still confidently sharing the gospel?

How does the image of Jesus wanting to gather people 'as a hen gathers her brood' affect our understanding of God's love and desire for relationship with us?

What are some ways we can cultivate a deeper appreciation for the complexity and awesomeness of God, especially when faced with difficult theological concepts?

How might recognizing our limited understanding of God's ways impact our faith and our interactions with those who hold different beliefs?

In what ways can the concept of God's grace and peace being 'multiplied' to us shape our expectations and experiences in the Christian life?
