4. What does it mean to 'make war with intercession,' and how can we apply this concept to our spiritual battles today?
5. How can men take up their spiritual leadership roles in families and communities without suppressing others, as described in the sermon?
6. What are some practical ways we can 'worship in the war zone' of our daily lives and environments?
7. How might embracing personal revival in our '18-inch circle' contribute to a larger movement of God in our churches and communities?
8. What lessons can we learn from Jehoshaphat's response to crisis that apply to our current cultural and spiritual challenges?
9. How can we maintain a balance between taking action ('marching out') and trusting God to fight our battles?
10. In what ways can we cultivate an expectation for God to turn our 'valleys of destruction' into 'valleys of blessing' in our personal and communal lives?
