

REDEMPTION

WEEK 3 | DAY 15

READ ROMANS 8:18-25

I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. For the creation waits in eager expectation for the children of God to be revealed. For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope that the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay and brought into the freedom and glory of the children of God. We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption to sonship, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is no hope at all. Who hopes for what they already have? But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently.

Invite God into the situations and circumstances that feel broken or hopeless around you.

PRAY THIS WITH US:

“God, You are my Redeemer. Thank you that nothing can separate me from Your love and the place I have in the Kingdom. You are making all things new and with You all things are possible. What the enemy mean for evil or harm, God turn it for Your good. When I am struggling with pain and hurt, remind me that the suffering of this world is temporary and that the victory is Yours. When it feels like there is no way through, You make a way. Redeem the time and help me to live the rest of my life submitted to Your leading and being led by Your Spirit. Amen.”
