

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

The Loving Humility of Christ (John 13:1-17)

1. How does Jesus' act of washing the disciples' feet challenge our understanding of leadership and service in the church today?
2. In what ways might we be like Peter, resistant to allowing Jesus to serve us or 'wash our feet'? How can we overcome this resistance?
3. How does the concept of ongoing spiritual cleansing (like foot washing) relate to our daily walk with Christ and the practice of confession?
4. What are some practical ways we can embody Christ-like humility in our relationships and communities?
5. How does Jesus' willingness to wash even Judas' feet challenge us in our interactions with those who have betrayed or hurt us?
6. In what areas of your life do you find it most difficult to 'clothe yourself with humility' as Peter later instructs?
7. How does understanding Jesus' divine authority (as described in John 13:3) make His act of servanthood even more profound?
8. What might it look like in your life to 'count others more significant than yourself' as Paul encourages in Philippians 2?
9. How does Jesus' example of humility and service inform our understanding of true greatness in God's kingdom?
10. In what ways can we cultivate a community that values and practices mutual service and humility, following Christ's example?
