Postcard From Heaven: Miracles

A Bible miracle is a supernatural event where natural law is temporarily suspended. The difference between supernatural (miracles) and natural law (without miracles) is apparent when creation is contrasted with procreation; though God initially made everything through miracles, subsequent generations of plant, animal and human life are the result of natural law (without miracles). To further illustrate, the so-called "miracle of birth," though awesome, is a natural rather than a supernatural phenomenon; therefore, birth ordinarily does not qualify as a Bible miracle. However, the birth of Jesus Christ truly did involve a miracle in order for His virgin mother to conceive (Matthew 1:18-25; Luke 1:26-37).

The Bible is rich with references to miracles; Mark 16:17-18 and 1 Corinthians 12:8-10 each list types of miracles that are recorded in the New Testament.

The purpose of New Testament miracles was to:

- (1) identify the Messiah and instill belief in Him (John 20:30-31);
- (2) provide a means by which man could receive new revelation from God (1 Peter 1:20-21; Matthew 10:20-21); and
- (3) confirm revelation to be God's Word (Mark 16:20; Hebrews 2:3-4).

The purpose of miracles has been fulfilled, and this fulfillment resulted in the collection and preservation of the New Testament. Today, the New Testament: (1) identifies the Messiah and instills belief in Him and (2) provides a complete revelation of God's will for man in this age. Miracles, then, are no longer necessary. Additionally, Scripture foretold that the partial revelations received by miracles would be replaced with permanent, "perfect" revelation (we call it the New Testament)

(1 Corinthians 13:8-13; James 1:25; Ephesians 4:11-13). Finally, with only little reflection anyone can easily discern that no Bible miracles are occurring now.

Youth Corner

Tony's Tidbits For Today

Don't build beliefs on Bible "sound bites." God gave us a whole story. "The entirety of Your word is truth" (Psalm 119:160). Aim for the whole counsel of God (Acts 20:27): read the verse, then the paragraph, then the chapter. Don't settle for what other people say the Bible says; read it for yourself. You'll be blessed if you do.
