Ephesians 4:11-13

And He gave some as apostles, and some as prophets, and some as evangelists, and some as pastors and teachers...

for the equipping of the saints

for the work of service to the building up of the body of Christ

...until we all attain... to the measure of the stature which belongs to the fullness of Christ.

We Are Never On Our Own

As apprentices of Jesus, we must be active in the process of our salvation and transformation into Christ-likeness. This is an inescapable fact of the gospel. But the initiative in the process is always God's. And here's the good news: That initiative is not something we are waiting upon. The ball is in our court. God has invaded human history and reality. Jesus Christ has died on our behalf, has risen, and is now supervising events on earth toward an end that he will certainly bring to pass, to the glory of God. The issue now concerns what we will do. The idea that we can do nothing toward our transformation is an unfortunate confusion of our time, and those who sponsor it never practice it, thank goodness.

If we – through well-directed and unrelenting action (being gifted by the Holy Spirit to do so) – effectually receive the grace of God in salvation and transformation, we certainly will be incrementally changed toward inward Christlikeness. And the transformation of our outer life, especially our behavior, will follow suit. That, too, is an inescapable fact: “No good tree produces bad fruit.” (Luke 6:43, PAR).
