Sermon Series

Sheesh: Cultivating Wonder in a Monochrome World January 11 – February 15

“Sheesh” is more than an expression of surprise—it’s a recognition that life is filled with moments that take our breath away, if only we notice them. This series challenges us to break free from the autopilot of modern life and cultivate a heart that marvels at God’s presence in both the extraordinary and the ordinary. Through six transformative weeks, we’ll explore ancient spiritual practices that awaken wonder. Join us as we trade our tired, monochrome existence for a life painted with wonder, meaning, and divine surprise.

Sermon Reflection and Thoughts on the New Year

Words for Meditation: “We become what we behold.” – William Blake

Today's Questions

- Where have you recently witnessed “moral beauty”—an act of goodness, courage, compassion, or forgiveness—and how did witnessing it shape what you felt, noticed, or desired afterward?
- What do you find yourself “beholding” most often in daily life—and how might those images, stories, or habits be forming your character over time?

Today's Takeaways

1. Awe comes not only from the _____ above us, but from the _____ beside us.
2. We _____ what we _____.
3. Before we “go and do _____,” we are called to _____ and _____.
