Sermon Series

In God's Presence: Three Ways to Pray
October 19 – November 2

Prayer is more than words—it's a way of being in active relationship with the divine. We'll explore the prayer practices of petition, confession, and intercession through a view of God who is profoundly relational, responsive, and ever evolving. Each week will offer a new pathway into God's presence, helping us cultivate a more honest, compassionate, and empowering spirituality.

Sermon Reflection

Words for Meditation: "God works with the world as it is in order to bring it to where it can be. Prayer changes the way the world is, and therefore changes what the world can be. Prayer opens the world to its own transformation." — Marjorie Hewitt Suchocki

Today's Questions

- When have you experienced the mystery of prayer—not as a way to control outcomes, but as a way to feel more deeply connected to God and to others?
- How might your understanding or practice of prayer change if you believed that every prayer, in some way, truly affects God and the world?

Today's Takeaways

1. Prayer is aligning our will with God's _____.
2. Intercession _____ what distance _____.
3. Every prayer _____ and _____.
