Discussion Questions

1. In what ways can a church or an individual slowly adopt the world's view of sin without realizing it?
2. When Paul says, "Such were some of you," what does this teach us about what real salvation does and does not do in a person's life?
3. What is the difference between true biblical assurance and false assurance, and how does this passage help us evaluate the difference?
4. This text emphasizes patterns of life rather than isolated failures. How does understanding that difference encourage repentance without producing fear or despair?
