

Lives Change When Men Step Up to the Truth

KELLY TALAMO COACHING

In it with you

“No matter what you’ve accomplished, somebody helped you.” (Althea Gibson)

“And the things which you have seen and heard from me, in the presence of many witnesses, these entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also.” (2 Timothy 2:2)

Mission

Whether I’m speaking to a large crowd or coaching a single student, clients hire me to facilitate change. That requires me to build trust quickly, assess situations properly, and clearly communicate a needed truth. I works hard to identify gaps and help clients see and embrace the changes they want to make. Life’s too short to work for any other reason!

Background and Experience

After a successful landscape career, I joined Triaxia Partners, a premier Atlanta consulting firm where I learned valuable coaching skills and the mastery of several assessment tools. Five years later I opened a coaching firm, serving clients such as Aflac Insurance, Bayer, Coca-Cola, CGB, and AT&T.

In 2000, I founded Men Step Up; a ministry that teaches men how lead engaging encounters in God’s word, simply and effectively. Men are energized when realize they can have their own personal ministry wherever they are.

“I watched as Kelly unlocked potential and broke through some team barriers that existed for years. His Christ-centered approach was exceptional!”

Craig Harwood; HR Director, Coca-Cola NA

Clients Said It!

“I’ve paid thousands for all day workshops and got far less than what Kelly Talamo gave us in one hour!”

Ron Dunn; CEO Color Tile

“Besides being an exceptional communicator, Men Step Up is the most creative mens ministry I’ve ever seen. It’s been amazing to watch.”

Andy Stanley; Senior Pastor North Point Community Church

“I didn’t think I needed a personal coach until I met Kelly. The guy has a way of reaching even a hard-headed know-it-all CEO like myself. I hired him to help me in my business but he really helped change the way I live my life.

Brian Laborde; CEO Laborde Products; Covington, LA
