Conversation starter: How are you? Share one struggle and one joy in your life now.

Discovery:

1. Reread aloud Genesis 2:15-24. What comes out to you most in the passage? What curiosities arise as you hear it today?
2. When you ponder again the newly-created human or man in (vv 15-18), what image(s) come to mind? For instance, do you imagine him at a particular age? What does the surrounding environment look like, etc? Where do those images come from, and what assumptions might they make?

Understanding:

3. Revisit the term “helper” by reading aloud Psalm 46:1, 121:1, and Isaiah 41:10. Discuss your understanding of the term now in the context of Gen 2: 18-20. What is the passage teaching here about God’s design project?
4. Has this passage challenged your understanding of marriage or who God is and what He’s like, and if so, how?

Application:

5. What is at stake for us personally in this passage? What impact does that seem to have on understanding it? Why is that, do you think?
6. Is there any personal behavior or attitude that you are now moved to address in your life?
7. Pray together silently and then aloud together as it flows from your time together. Are you led to respond in any way as a result?
