FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

---

What is a Commitment Card?

A commitment card is a personal commitment of what you intend to give to Sow to Reap over the next three years (through October 2028). It is not a contract, but a faith commitment that helps our church plan wisely.

Why are Commitment Cards important?

Commitment cards give our church leadership a clearer picture of anticipated giving. This allows us to:

- Plan responsibly for construction costs and financing.
- Determine how much of the project can be funded without borrowing.
- Steward resources well and make decisions with confidence.

Is my Commitment Card legally binding?

No. A commitment card is a voluntary, good-faith estimate of what you plan to give. If your circumstances change, you may adjust your commitment amount at any time.

How long do I have to fulfill my commitment?

The commitment period is three years, beginning in October 2025 and concluding in October 2028. You may give in whatever rhythm works best for you—monthly, quarterly, annually, or in one-time gifts. Please feel free to email us at sowtoreap@cbcbellevue.com if you want to set up a special recurring giving schedule or if you have any other questions.

What types of gifts can I give?

You may give through: cash or checks; online giving (one-time or recurring); or non-cash gifts such as stocks, securities, property, or other assets (please contact sowtoreap@cbcbellevue.com).

Why do you ask for giving frequency?

Knowing whether you plan to give monthly, quarterly, annually, or through another schedule helps us manage cash flow and budget responsibly throughout the project.

Can I change my commitment amount later?

Yes. If your situation changes—whether you're able to give more or need to reduce your commitment—email us at sowtoreap@cbcbellevue.com. We understand that life circumstances can shift, and we're grateful for whatever you are able to give.

Will my commitment cards be made public?

No. Commitment cards are kept confidential.

Can I start giving right away?

Yes! Gifts given now will go directly toward the Sow to Reap project. Simply designate your gift as "Sow to Reap" when you give.

How can I track my giving toward the amount on my Commitment Card?

You will be able to track how much you've given to Sow to Reap on Church Center's giving platform at cbcbellevue.com/mysowtoreap. Please allow one week for your card information to be uploaded.
