

TWENTY TWENTY 2026

JANUARY 4 - JANUARY 23

Why We're Beginning the Year This Way

Every year invites movement—new plans, new goals, new responsibilities. But before we decide where we're going, we need clarity about who is leading and what He is saying.

TWENTY | TWENTY is a call to begin the year by fixing our eyes on God. Just as clear vision allows us to move with confidence, spiritual clarity allows us to live with purpose. When our focus is right, our direction becomes clear.

This season of prayer and fasting is not about striving or discipline alone. It is about creating space—space to listen, space to realign, and space for God to sharpen our spiritual sight. In a world full of noise, distraction, and urgency, we are intentionally slowing down so we can hear God's voice more clearly.

We believe that vision is not something we manufacture; it is something God reveals. As we seek Him together, He clarifies our priorities, heals what has been blurred, and prepares our hearts for what lies ahead.

TWENTY | TWENTY is an invitation to start the year rooted, focused, and aligned. It is a moment to lay aside distractions, set our hearts on Christ, and allow God to shape our vision for our lives, our families, and our church.

As we seek the Lord together, we trust that clarity will come—and with clarity, the courage to step forward in faith.

ENGAGE 2026

“No one who puts a hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the Kingdom of God.” - Luke 9:62

ENGAGE 2026 is a reminder that God’s work is not accomplished by spectators, but by people who are willing to step in, show up, and participate in what He is doing. The vision challenges us to live with focus—to engage the plow, break new ground, and trust God with the harvest. Whether or not we see the full outcome, we are called to be faithful in the work He has placed before us.

ENGAGE 2026 is built around four guiding values that shape how we live, serve, and grow together:

Faithful — Engaged to Christ

We remain rooted in a growing relationship with Jesus. Our faithfulness begins not with what we do, but with who we belong to.

Focused — Engaged Attention

We fix our eyes on what matters most. In a world full of distraction, we choose presence, obedience, and spiritual attentiveness.

Fruitful — Engaged in the Work

We actively participate in God’s mission. Every gift matters, every person has a role, and every act of obedience produces Kingdom impact.

Fearless — Engaged in the Battle

We step forward with courage and faith, trusting God in moments of uncertainty and standing firm in spiritual opposition.

ENGAGE 2026 is an invitation for every person, every family, and every generation to take ownership of the mission God has entrusted to us. As we seek the Lord together, may He give us the clarity to see, the faith to obey, and the perseverance to press forward.

How to Use This Guide

This guide is designed to help you slow down, focus your heart, and seek God intentionally during this season of prayer and fasting. There is no right or wrong pace—only a posture of openness and obedience.

Each day includes a Scripture, space for a devotional thought, an application/declaration, and a prayer focus. Set aside a consistent time each day to read, pray, and reflect. Even a few quiet minutes with God can bring clarity when approached with sincerity.

Choose a fast that fits your season of life and health. The goal is not perfection, but attentiveness. When you feel hunger, distraction, or resistance, allow those moments to redirect your attention back to prayer.

Use the reflection spaces to write what God is showing you. These notes may become reminders of God's faithfulness and guidance throughout the year.

If you miss a day, receive the gift of God's grace and continue to plow forward. Spiritual growth happens through faithfulness, not guilt.

Above all, approach this journey with expectancy. As you seek the Lord, trust that He will speak, lead, and bring clarity—one day at a time.

Fasting is the intentional practice of setting something aside in order to focus more fully on God.

It is not about deprivation or religious performance, but about creating space for spiritual clarity and deeper connection with the Lord.

During this season, choose a fast that is meaningful, sustainable, and appropriate for your health and life circumstances. The purpose is not to compare or compete, but to posture your heart to hear from God. What you give up should lead you back to prayer.

Common fasts include a Daniel Fast, fasting one meal a day, fasting from sun-up to sun-down, or fasting from specific items such as sugar, caffeine, or media. Some may choose to fast social media or entertainment in order to reduce distraction and increase attentiveness to God's presence.

When you feel hunger, pause and pray. Let physical reminders become spiritual prompts. When distractions surface, return to Scripture. When the fast feels difficult, ask God for strength. And if you miss a moment or struggle along the way, receive grace and continue forward. Consistency matters more than perfection.

Fasting is meant to sharpen focus, quiet the noise, and realign our hearts with God's will. As you fast, remain attentive to what the Holy Spirit is revealing. Write down what God shows you, listen for His voice, and respond in obedience. Above all, remember that fasting is not about what you are giving up—it is about Who you are drawing near to. As you seek the Lord with sincerity, trust that clarity, renewal, and direction will follow.

A COMMISSIONING PRAYER FOR THE YEAR AHEAD

Lord, as we step into this new year, we come before You with open hearts and sensitive spirits. We thank You for meeting us in this season of prayer and fasting, and for drawing us closer to You.

We surrender our plans, our expectations, and our agendas to You. Align our hearts with Your will, our minds with Your truth, and our steps with Your direction. Give us eyes to see what You are doing and the courage to follow where You lead.

Where our vision has been blurred, bring clarity. Where we have been distracted, restore our focus. Where we have grown weary, renew our strength. May Your Word light our path and Your Spirit guide our steps.

We commit ourselves to live engaged—faithful to Christ, focused on what matters most, fruitful in the work You have prepared for us, and fearless in obedience to Your call. Use our lives, our gifts, and our families for Your glory and for the advancement of Your Kingdom.

As we go forward, may we walk in humility, love, and faith. Empower us to be witnesses of Your grace, carriers of hope, and servants of peace in our city and throughout the world.

We trust You with the year ahead. We receive Your vision, Your wisdom, and Your peace. In Jesus' most powerful name we pray, amen!
