Social Media Guidelines

Adopted 3/7/18

The following social media policy was implemented by the church body to protect the privacy of all individuals.

1. Anyone is welcome to join and stay connected through our different types of social media that are open to the public. ie. Facebook (open page), Remind, Instagram

a. Most normal "exterior" church announcements and the ability to keep up with the church is found in those places.

2. For those types of social media that are closed to the public, ie Facebook (closed page), Band (devotional groups), etc. There will be rules set in place to govern who has access to these.

a. People will be added to the group as necessary as they begin to commit to our body of believers, as these groups are not meant for just anyone.

3. Due to the concern or privacy and to protect liability, we will begin to have quarterly reviews of who is in these groups.

a. If people are not involved with being connected with the church body, the leadership team will make decisions to remove individuals from those groups that are closed to the public.

b. This is in no means a form of judgment but is asking people for a commitment from everyone to be a part of the lives at Community Fellowship.

c. People can leave any group when they desire.

4. Instagram administrators may follow or unfollow whomever they see fit based on the content of a particular page.

a. Direct messages, photos, and stories must be kept in good character according to Administrators.

b. Followers are on a case by case basis and are not limited to church attendees.
