Do your kids enjoy making art with clay? We will learn clay hand-building techniques to create forms with clay in their own hands (without using a throwing wheel). With a few basic techniques, they will be able to make tableware vessels, sculptural Christmas decorations, and mixed media.

This class includes one project (the first project) to be fired in the kiln in Seattle. For the remaining projects, you'll be able to enjoy the experience of taking the creations to be fired as a family. (We'll share what you need to know about handling those projects and where to take them to be fired.)
