

YOUR RESULTS

REPRODUCING

The results are in! You are Reproducing and you have influence in the lives of other believers because of Jesus! While you aren't perfect, you understand and strive for perfect love in your relationships with others. You have gained valuable experiences which will not only be essential in helping others in their faith journey but will ultimately lead you to live an abundant life in Christ. How? You understand it's no longer about "what do I get", but "how can I give" my time, talent, and resources for the sake of others.

As part of your discipleship journey, you should seek out others who you value for their wisdom and influence in your life. This doesn't necessarily need to be a formal mentor relationship, however, this should be someone who you communicate with regularly.

Your Key Opportunity

Your growth is now largely on you through the relationships and practices that challenge you to be more like Christ. Sundays now take a different role in your life from learning, to worshiping and encouraging others. Developing an appreciation for your Sacred Pathways (see resources) will drive you to find new ways to sustain your lifelong growth in Christ through spiritual disciplines.

What Growth Looks Like

Leading a small group or being a spiritual mentor. Practicing spiritual disciplines on your own to continue to nourish your relationship with Jesus will be key to a sustaining life in Christ.

What You'll Discover in This Stage

In this stage, you will find that a combination of solitude, fasting, study, worship, rest, service, and disciple-making will bring a sense of abundant living and desire to grow even more.

Your Next Steps

In this stage, you will begin discipling with a greater level of intentionality. As you lead a group or guide other Jesus followers you will be bold in asking probing questions that lead to growth and share resources and stories that have helped you along the way. Pray specifically for those you lead with boldness and intentionality.
