

Spring 2026: Cultural Apologetics

Course Description

Have you ever felt confused by the culture around you? Have you ever shared the gospel with someone and been met not with anger or opposition, but apathy and indifference? A key element of evangelism is insuring that we present the gospel in a way that is clear to our particular culture. In order to do that well, we need to understand why our culture is captivated by the things it finds most compelling. This Institute Course on Cultural Apologetics will help us develop our understanding of our culture and the myths and lies it holds dear, so that we might clearly and compellingly communicate the unchanging good news of the gospel to those who desperately need to hear it.
