

Pastor’s Peace

The practice of Lent brings transformation

Step 4: Reinvent

Stage 4—REINVENT. Reinvent is another self-focused phase where you are making new choices that are in alignment with the self-realized vision in the first phase, Realize. It is the empty space that begs to be filled with new choices, behaviors, and habits that are purposeful and productive.”

It is so hard to reinvent yourself. It is easier to find new justifications for bad beliefs or behaviors. The challenge in reinventing yourself is the people around you like to keep you where you are. It makes people look bad when you try to better yourself.

It is why recidivism among criminals is so high. When you go back into society, even the best-intentioned are often held back. Weight loss? People love you, but they still put the cake in front of you at the family picnic. Now we know we do that one. Working on a new career? Sometimes, your friends will say you can’t do it. We believe that too easily.

We can change. It is essential for us and the world in which we live. We can learn new behaviors, look at the world through different eyes, make the world around us a better place.

And we who believe in Christ have a hand up on that change in our lives.

Blessing and peace,
