THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

Once a year, usually at Spring Break, my wife decides to do a deep cleaning. If this was just a cleaning, that would be fine. However, every closet and every drawer in the house gets gone through. Some people tend to be packrats, but not her. If we have not used it or do not see a use in the near future, it is either trashed or donated. I often joke that I am afraid to sit down because she may set me out by the road.

“The reality is, God is wild about you and He will relentlessly pursue you until you surrender to His call.”

While the process of cleaning can be a mess and no fun, the results are well worth it. If you can withstand the pain of getting there, you will reap the rewards in the end. After a few days of a mess, things end up orderly and in their place. There is a freshness and a lightness to the house because of the hard work that has been done.

Our text today calls us to a cleaning of sorts. It is not our house or office that we are called to consider, but our lives. Are there things in our lives that need to go? Are there sins that need dealt with? Are there attitudes that need changed? What sort of spiritual housekeeping needs to take place?

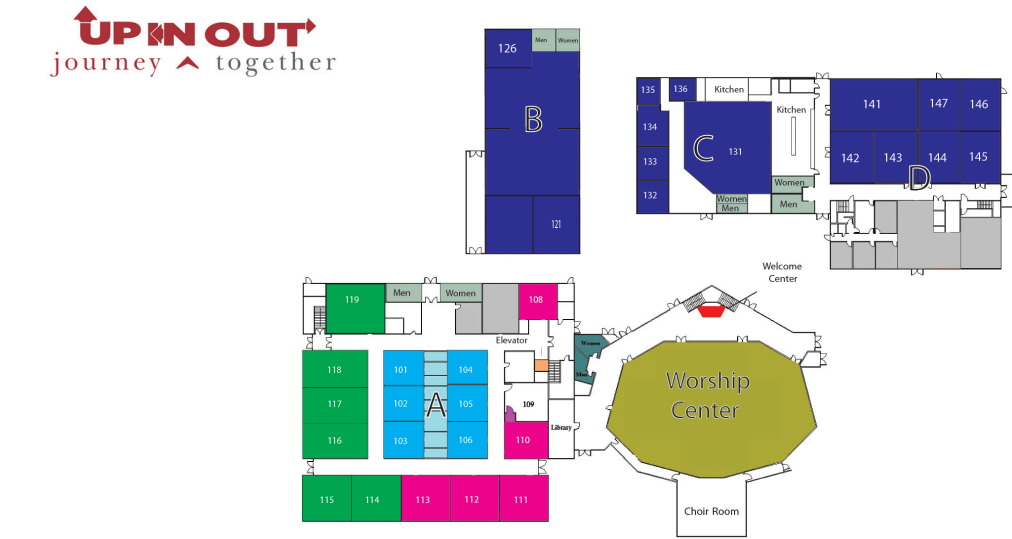

As we see the drift that took place in Israel, let us be careful not to do the same. We must carefully consider our lives to make sure that we are walking with God as we should. Take time to reflect on the things that matter. Have we allowed other things to interfere with our worship? Are there things that hinder our love of the Lord? Have we allowed Him to hold first place in our lives?

I hope that we will take seriously the opportunity that Christ has afforded us to walk closely to our God. I hope that we will not be distracted or unfaithful in our relationship with Him. I pray that we will feel the full richness of what it means to walk with Him.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL
