THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

One of the main characteristics that we can display, if we long to serve God effectively, is humility. Humility is a trait that can take on many forms. Too often we think that

“However, if I fail to show humility in my relationship to the Lord, it will be catastrophic.”

Humility becomes more difficult as the years pass by. We tend to think that we know more than we do. We believe that experience has taught us many things, thus we have very little left to learn. Once we adopt this attitude, we are in trouble. Not only are we in trouble, but we are stuck and unable to grow.

If I fail to show humility in my relationship with others, it is problematic. However, if I fail to show humility in my relationship to the Lord, it will be catastrophic. I must always maintain a spirit of teachability and openness when it comes to my relationship with the Lord. If I start to think I have it all figured out, then I will end up in trouble.

We will see today that Israel, as a whole, had failed to stay humble. The result of this was that they began to think more highly of themselves than they should have, they allowed sin in, and they drifted from the Lord. Let us not be guilty of the same.

In order to maintain humility, I must often come before the Lord with an open heart and open mind. I must allow Him to show me where I am falling short or where I need to demonstrate more faith. I must allow Him to dictate to me what the future will look like as opposed to me dictating to Him.

Stay humble my friends and allow God to have His work in your life.

Honored to be your pastor,
