THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

For the last several weeks, we have been on a journey to the cross. Today, we find ourselves there. As the story has progressed, Jesus now hangs on the cross paying the price for our sin. As we look around the cross, we see a number of events taking place. We see the sun refuse to shine. We see the curtain in the temple torn in two. We see a number of people as they react to what is taking place. As we stop and consider, we will see that there are a number of responses to the crucifixion.

“We cannot treat the facts surrounding Christ with indifference. We must decide and that decision should change our lives.”

As I look closely at this account, I am reminded of another encounter with Jesus that is recorded for us. This encounter takes place in Matthew 16:13-20. Jesus is speaking with His disciples and ask the question, “Who do people say that the Son of Man is?” The disciples then share several things that they have heard. After probing for what others are saying, Jesus turns it personal. Jesus asks, “But who do you say I am?”

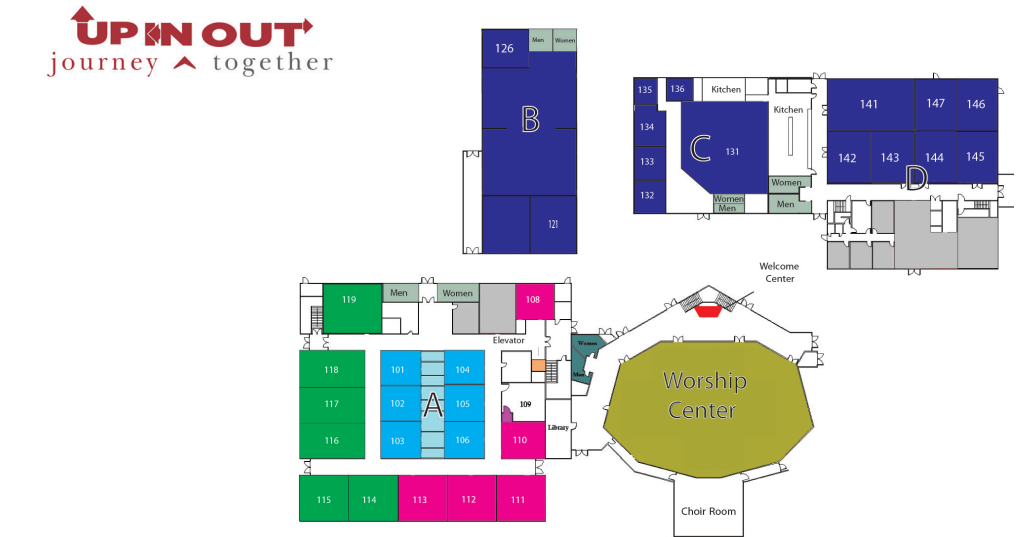

Just as we see varied responses to the events around the cross, there are varied answers to the question, “Who do people say the Son of Man is?” We must ask ourselves two questions: what is our response to the cross and who do we say the Son of Man is? I cannot think of two more important questions than these.

If you are coming into this Easter season and have not made a decision as to who Jesus Christ is, then it is time. When it comes to this decision, not to decide is to decide. To believe that Jesus is the Christ requires that we commit our entire life to Him. We cannot treat the facts surrounding Christ with indifference. We must decide and that decision should change our lives.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL
