THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

Greetings, Northside family! Many of you know that I’ve recently started seminary classes. I knew that I would have to dust off my writing skills, but wasn’t aware I would be tasked with writing for the church so soon! We’re beginning a new sermon series titled Heart of Worship this week, so I thought I’d share a few thoughts.

What is worship? It’s a question I’ve asked myself a lot and it’s definitely a topic that has come up quite frequently in the last month or so. There are a number of definitions of worship that I’ve used over the years, but I always come back to this one: “Worship is putting your mind’s attention and your heart’s affection on God, praising him for who he is, and what he has done.” I always attributed this quote to Louie Giglio, but recently found that its a paraphrase from Bruce Leafblad’s definition: “Worship is communion with God in which believers, by grace, center their minds’ attention and hearts’ affection on the Lord, humbly glorifying God in response to his greatness and his word.”

That phrase ‘minds’ attention and hearts’ affection’, is important. It’s about focus. Everything in our life demands focus. Careers, family, friends, church, social media - we spend some time of the day with our focus on each of these.

In Colossians 3:2, the apostle Paul tells us to “Set our minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth.” As worshipers of God, we need to develop ways to dial that focus back to him. We can’t do it ourselves though, we need God’s help. We must begin with prayer. It can’t, however, start Sunday morning as we enter the worship center. It needs to be an overflow of the prayers we’ve been praying all week. Paul also tells us in Romans 12 that we should “offer our bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God.” He calls this our “spiritual worship”.

As Pastor Darrell walks us through this series, I urge you to join me in spending time in prayer daily. Pray that God will show you the ways you can “glorify him in response to his greatness and his word”. Let it happen in your personal worship time every day and when we meet again corporately, all our attention and affection will be more tightly focused on the Lord.

Blessed to worship with you,

Stephen Summers
