THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

Good morning Northside family, friends and guests. I hope that this weekend has been restful and energizing. This is a busy time of year and one of my favorites. This morning may look a little different than other weeks. No, it is not National Youth Pastor Preaching Day. Darrell and Stephen are both out serving with Grace Retreat this weekend. So...You all are stuck with me preaching. You will also see that Jim Drake is back with us to lead worship. I have been so excited to see him and be able to serve alongside my good friend again. We had the privilege to have Jim help us during the interim period almost over a year ago. Thank you Jim for being here with us again this morning.

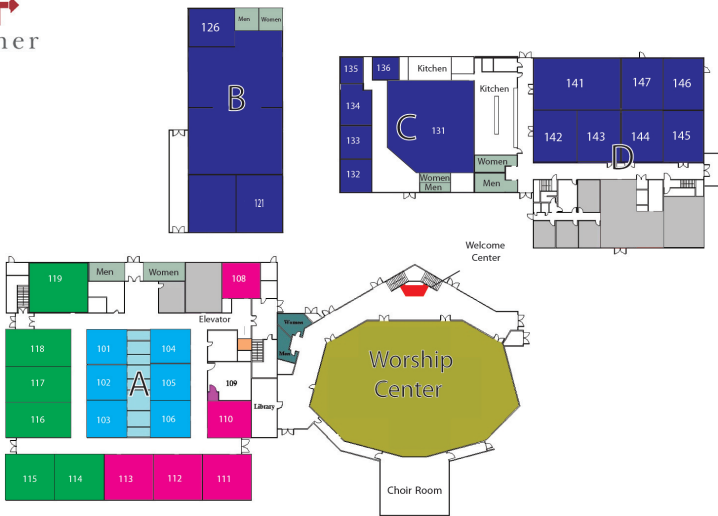

This morning we are going to be spending our time looking at 1 Peter 2:13-25. I joked with Darrell when he asked me to preach that I would as long as I did not have to teach on tithing or money. I should have also said 1 Peter 2. Even though preparing this was a struggle, I am excited to teach through this passage. Get ready, we will be struggling together to look at why submitting to authority is an act of worship. I know most of us do not like the word submit. I personally think that word should not exist, but it does. So, why should we submit to authority? Why is it an act of worship submitting to God? How does it help others to see who God is in our lives? These are just a few of the questions we will wrestle with this morning.

On another note, I cannot help but tell you all a little of what has been going on with our youth this semester. When school started we began dividing up our Junior High and High School students in our MidWeek service. Every Wednesday we do a game and a time of worship together, but for teaching, junior high and high school split into different areas. We have two different people teaching at the same time. This has been so good for many reasons. One reason, we have several different voices teaching each week. I have ten people that have stepped up to teach this semester with me. They have been doing so well, and our students seem to enjoy not having to listen to just me every week. I have also seen our groups making new connections and growing together. Please keep praying for us as we finish out the semester.
