THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

Matthew 7:21-23 offers a warning that ought to cause every reader to stop and consider. Matthew relays the words of Jesus to us in this way, “Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but the one who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. On that day many will say to me, ‘Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and cast out demons in your name, and do many mighty works in your name?’ And then will I declare to them, ‘I never knew you; depart from me, you workers of lawlessness.’”

For years I have heard people say, “‘I’ or ‘He’ or ‘She’, prayed to receive Christ, so I know they are a Christian.” The only problem with that statement is, no where does the Bible say that this is the qualification for salvation. Instead, we see words like believe, repent, and follow. I do not have a personal issue with what we call the Sinners Prayer, but such a prayer better be a reflection of something much deeper that is going on in our lives. Notice what Jesus says in the passage above, “Not everyone who says to me, ‘Lord, Lord’ will be saved, but the one who does the will of my Father.”

My hope for each of us this morning is that we will take stock of our lives. Have we truly committed to following Jesus? Is this commitment preceded by a belief in His death, burial, and resurrection? Is it followed by repentance and obedience? If these elements are not present, at best we are not walking with God as we should. At worst, we are lost and on our way to hell.

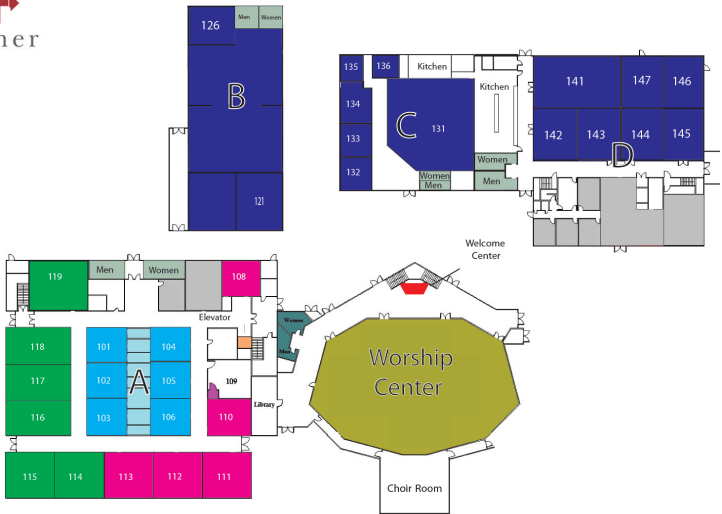

It is never my goal to cause someone to doubt their salvation, but it also is not my goal for people who are not saved to believe that they are. Examine your own heart and life. Make a determination as to whether you are walking with God as you should. If you are, then great, pray for others. If not, then do not walk out of this building today without getting things right.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL
