THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

This morning we will continue our examination of the “One Another” passages we find in the New Testament. In all, there are 59 “One Another” passages, but we are only looking at seven of them as part of this series. The “One Another” passages are important because they tell us how we are to treat each other. In a sense, it is these passages that give us clarity as to how the church is to behave.

Today we will consider the statement, “bear one another’s burdens.” This passage is telling us that we are to not only be concerned about ourselves, but the wellbeing of others. As we look at the lives of others, and what they might be going through, we should consider how we might help them along in their journey. How is it that we can truly help them bear their burden?

Such a thought is counter cultural. The world would tell us that it is not our problem. Since it is not our problem, we should not concern ourselves with it. However, as we seek to follow Christ, we learn that we are to be concerned for other people. We are to slow down, pay attention, and look to lighten the load of others. Such a life helps us to keep selfishness at bay.

Over the next week, take time to look around. Watch what is going on in the lives of others. Make a conscious effort to do something that lightens someone else’s load. Maybe you can offer an encouraging word. Maybe you will take time to pray for someone. Maybe you pay for someone’s coffee. Maybe you hold a child’s hand for just a moment while mom has a chance to cash out at the grocery store. Look for some simple act that will be a blessing to others.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL
