THOUGHTS ON THE JOURNEY

Each of us must come to a point in our lives where we determine whether we will allow the word of God to change us, or if we are going to change the word of God to fit our wants and desires. One of these choices is life-giving, the other destroys life. We may think we know how we need to live our lives, but we will never have a better plan that God Himself has.

When we come to the word of God – whether it be in our personal readings, in a Bible Study, or as we hear it preached – we should pray, “Lord, give me eyes to see, ears to hear, and a heart to obey.” As we journey along with Jesus Christ, the word of God, the Bible, should shape more and more of who we are. The process of growing in the Lord is a never-ending process.

Of course, we must state the obvious. It is impossible to grow in the word if you are not in the word. So, we must each set aside time to spend with our Lord, in His word, that we can be conformed to His image. Life is busy. Responsibilities are great. But none of that excuses us from doing what God has called us to do.

It is my prayer that each of us would fall deeply in love with the word of God. That we would read it with a heart to understand and obey. I pray that we would be forever changed by what we read in God’s word.

Honored to be your pastor,

DARRELL

SERMON NOTES

A Receptive Heart

Mark 4:1-20

THE BIG IDEA: We must receive the word of God in such a way that it will produce fruit in our lives.

Our Prayer (v. 12):

1. Give me _____ to see.
2. Give me _____ to hear.
3. Give me a _____ to obey.

Four Types of Hearts:

1. The _____ heart (vs. 4, 14-15).
2. The _____ heart (vs. 5-6, 16-17).
3. The _____ heart (vs. 7, 18-19).
4. The _____ heart (vs. 8, 20).

1. Why is it important that we have eyes to see, ears to hear, and a heart to obey?
2. What typifies each of the hearts mentioned: hard, shallow, distracted, and receptive?
3. How do we make sure we have a receptive heart?
4. What is the end result of having a receptive heart?
