What are Communities?

Free Church Communities are environments where we desire to live out the truth that the church is our family, the group to which we are to be deeply committed to its care, support, provision, and good (Matt. 12:50). It's a place of encouragement and teaching, of serving and being served, of having fun with each other and carrying each other's burdens. In these communities we get to experience Jesus through others, and be Jesus to others.
