

1. What's something in your life (an object, hobby, or relationship) that you've seen repaired or restored — and how did that process mirror what God does spiritually?
2. What does it mean to you personally that the “price of redemption is the blood of Jesus”? How does understanding the cost change the way you view God's love?
3. In the first century, redemption meant buying a slave's freedom. How does that historical picture deepen your understanding of what Jesus did for us?
 - a. (Ephesians 1:7; Mark 10:45)
4. Why do we sometimes live as if we're still chained when Jesus already paid for our freedom? What are some modern “chains” we keep returning to?
5. Read 2 Corinthians 5:17. In what ways have you experienced that newness in your life? What areas still feel like God is in the “restoration process”?
6. Redemption is more than forgiveness — it's transformation.
 - a. In what ways do you see people settling for forgiveness without embracing transformation?
7. Jesus stepped into our world, our flesh, and our brokenness (John 1:14). How does the idea that God “got on the floor with us” change how you relate to Him?
8. Read Ephesians 1:10.
 - a. Where do you see the evidence of God rebuilding, restoring, or reconciling the world around you?
9. How does knowing you're part of God's restoration plan change the way you view your relationships, work, and church involvement?
10. What is one broken area of your life or community where you want to join God in the work of restoration?
