

At His Feet

Prayers From The Father's House

Jesus said to them, "It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer,"

(Matthew 21:13)

Behold, I am building a temple for the name of the LORD my God, to dedicate it to Him, to burn before Him sweet incense,

(2 Chronicles 2:4)

Let my prayer be set before You as incense,
The lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.

(Psalms 141:2)

And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and the fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers.

(Acts 2:42)

At His Feet

Nearly two centuries before Christ was born, a Jewish rabbi named Yose ben Yoezer gave this instruction to his students: “Let your house be a meeting place for the sages, and sit in the very dust of their feet, and drink in their words with thirst.” To sit in the dust of a teacher’s feet was to take the posture of a humble learner, a true disciple. And this is exactly what Mary of Bethany did the day Jesus entered her home.

Luke records the scene:

“Now as they went on their way, Jesus entered a village. And a woman named Martha welcomed Him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, who sat at the Lord’s feet and listened to His teaching. But Martha was distracted with much serving. And she went up to Him and said, ‘Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me to serve alone? Tell her then to help me.’ But the Lord answered her, ‘Martha, Martha, you are anxious and troubled about many things, but one thing is necessary. Mary has chosen the good portion, which will not be taken away from her” (Luke 10:38–42).

Mary was so captivated by Jesus that she left her sister Martha to prepare the meal alone, while she planted herself at the Master’s feet. What an extraordinary, history-shifting moment this was.

In first-century Judaism, women were not permitted to study with rabbis. In fact, the prevailing view was harshly restrictive, as reflected in these rabbinic sayings from the Mishnah:

“If a man gives his daughter knowledge of the Law, it is as though he taught her to be sexually promiscuous” (Sotah 3:4).

“He who talks much with women brings evil upon himself, neglects the study of the Law, and in the end will inherit Gehenna” (Avot 1:5).

To our modern ears, these words sound shocking—repressive and unthinkable. Yet it was into this very context that Mary, a Jewish woman of the first century, courageously broke cultural barriers. She sat in the very dust of Christ's feet, drinking in His words with thirst, taking her place as a disciple of the Lord of glory.

As she sat there listening, I imagine she was discovering what the people of Nazareth had felt when they first heard Jesus teach: "They marveled at the gracious words coming from His lips" (Luke 4:22). She was also experiencing what the temple officers meant when they testified, "No one ever spoke like this Man" (John 7:46), and what Peter expressed when he said to Jesus, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life" (John 6:68).

At this point in Mary's life, I wonder what she truly understood about Jesus. Did she know in her heart that He was the Messiah? Did she sense that He was the eternal Son of God who had come down from heaven to dwell among men? Did she realize that she was hearing the very voice of the Creator of the Universe? Could she have imagined how His words would one day change the course of history? Probably not.

More likely, she simply recognized the moment as a sacred opportunity to receive wisdom from a dear family friend—yet she seized it with a willing heart. What wisdom she showed. And what a holy privilege it was to sit at His feet.

This brief portrait of Mary reminds us that sitting at Christ's feet requires time, courage, humility, and a single-minded heart.

We too are invited to sit at His feet, but like Mary, it will cost us—and it will not always be easy. If you set aside an hour to wait on Him, you may feel the pull to stop early and turn to something else, something that seems “more productive.” You may even be misunderstood, perhaps by those dearest to you. After all, Jesus now reigns in heaven.

If Mary was criticized for “wasting” time at His feet when He was physically present in her home, how much more might you be accused of wasting time as you wait upon Him in spirit? Yet each time you silence the noise, quiet your heart, and rest in His presence, you will find—just as Mary did—that your love for Him grows deeper, your devotion stronger, and your soul more alive.

About six months after that evening in her living room, Mary's love for Christ reached new heights. Just days before His crucifixion, she humbled herself once again and poured out an entire jar of costly perfume upon His head and His feet. The Gospel of Mark tells us it was worth a year's wages. She did it as an act of worship, and as preparation for His burial. And how it touched the heart of Jesus! (See Mark 14:3–9; John 12:1–8)

In these two glimpses of Mary's devotion, we see a model for our own discipleship. She shows us what it means to sit at His feet: to learn from Him and worship Him.

The Lord Jesus Christ—the risen and ascended Rabbi of His Church—is still calling out to us today, “Come! Sit at My feet. I have so much to teach you.”

May our hearts respond like David's: “My heart has heard you say, ‘Come and talk with me.’ And my heart responds, ‘Lord, I am coming’” (Psalm 27:8).

At His Feet

How to Use a Prayer Book

At The Father's House, we have gathered for prayer every Wednesday for many years. I love these times, but I've noticed some people hesitate to join. Often it's not because they don't want to pray, but because they feel unsure—uncertain of what to say or how to begin. That's natural. None of us are born knowing how to pray. Prayer is something we learn.

The disciples of Jesus needed to learn too. One day, after watching Him pray, they asked for a lesson, "Lord, teach us to pray." Jesus responded by saying:

"When you pray, say: Father, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. Give us each day our daily bread, and forgive us our sins, for we ourselves forgive everyone who is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation" (Luke 11:2–4).

How To Use A Prayer Book

Notice—Jesus gave them a prayer to pray. A simple track to guide them into God's presence. This practice was not unusual for Jesus. Praying written prayers was central to the Jewish faith and deeply rooted in Scripture itself. The book of Psalms is essentially a collection of prayers.

The New Testament letters also contain written prayers which taught the early Jesus followers how to pray. And, throughout church history, Christians in every era, all around the world, have continued this tradition—recording their prayers so future generations could learn to pray. From the early church fathers to the reformers and revivalists, written prayers have been used to mature the church in faith and devotion.

This little book is our attempt to carry on that tradition. As a praying community, we want to pass on what we have learned. If you've never used a prayer book before, let me offer a simple four-step guide:

1. Still yourself in God's presence.

For me, that happens most naturally in a recliner with a fresh cup of coffee. Others prefer lighting a candle, sitting in silence, or walking in nature. However you do it, this step is essential. Half the battle of prayer is learning to stop the rush of life so your body, soul, and spirit can focus on God.

How To Use A Prayer Book

2. Read the prayers slowly, out loud.

A devotional book is meant to make you think about God. A prayer book is meant to help you talk to Him. Speaking the words aloud shifts the experience. These prayers are ready to be offered as they are—no rewording required.

3. Offer them directly to the Lord.

When I was a child, my mom would often slip a dollar into my hand so I could place it into the offering plate at church. She provided the gift, but she wanted me to experience the joy of giving it to God. A prayer book works similarly. These prayers are being handed to you so that you can in turn offer them to the Lord.

4. Linger with words that stir your heart.

As you pray, take note of the words and phrases that move you—those that make your heart leap, bring a tear to your eye, or give you pause. When that happens, stop. Repeat them. Close your eyes and let them sink in. In those moments, the prayer becomes more than words—it becomes a seed that is taking root deep within your soul.

How To Use A Prayer Book

Our hope is that these pages help you discover (or rediscover) the joy of prayer. May the Spirit use them to draw you closer to Jesus, renew your prayers with fresh life, and lead you into the fullness of joy that David spoke of in Psalms 16:11: “In your presence there is fullness of joy; at your right hand are pleasures forevermore.”

COMMUNITY PRAYERS

Section 1

Thank You, Father

Father in heaven, may your name be kept holy. My heart is filled with gratitude that you have brought me into your family. The finished work of your Son, Jesus, has made this possible.

It would have been enough to gain a Friend like Jesus. It was more than generous for you to give me your Spirit. But, in one final demonstration of grace, you took me (a spiritual orphan) and made me your son. Thank you, Father.

To think that the whole plan of redemption was accomplished for this very thing; that through believing in Jesus we might become sons and daughters of God. How important is this privilege to you! It is not one of many blessings. It is the crowning blessing—sonship, adoption, union, fellowship, oneness, family.

You have sent the Spirit of your Son to cry out inside of me, “Abba! Father!” It is this witness that gives me the assurance that I am yours, and you are mine.

Thank you, Father.

Wondrous Love

Yahweh, Most Holy One, my lips will praise you and give you the honor you deserve.

Thank you for coming to earth and humbling yourself as a man. You endured hatred, betrayal, and rejection; then died on a wooden cross for me. Thank you for responding with love and forgiveness. What a wondrous love! I don't have the words to express my gratitude.

So, I will dance, lift my hands and shout of your goodness. You are the most Holy One!

Dearest Father

Creator God, I stand in awe of your majesty and wonder. As I look at what your hands have made I am overwhelmed by your greatness.

Your Word says that you knew me before the foundations of the world! Thank you for pulling me out of darkness, calling me your own, and giving me a robe of righteousness.

Thank you for your protection, provision and wisdom. My heart is full of gratitude and joy. You are a good, good Father.

I love you.

Your Well Is Endless

Lord, when I am dry, you refresh me with your living water. Forgive me for the times I've turned to other wells that could never satisfy, leaving me thirsty still.

Your well is endless, and I will never forget how you gave sweet refreshment to my parched soul. May my tongue now and forever be used to sing and speak your praises.

Your Grace Knows No End

Father, thank you for opening yourself to us. It is my greatest joy to sit and create with you. What a blessing to seek your face and have you reveal yourself to someone like me!

Your grace is without end. I find both rest and purpose when my thoughts are fixed on you alone.

Amen.

Jesus – My All

You are the center of my heart! I lay all my idols at your feet. I don't want them. I only want you! You are in control of my life. You are in control of my future. You hold it all together! I love you so much! You are mercy! You are love! You are my all!

Lord of Glory

Lord of heaven, holy is your great name. Father, awaken the child you see within me. As you protect and guide me, help me to grow and act more like you.

Give me discernment in every action and interaction, that my life may bear witness to your love and goodness, and speak truth in a world that often lacks it.

Open my eyes to see your light shining through the darkness. Strengthen me. Give me a willing spirit that does not yield to the darkness, but embraces the light.

For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory. Forever Amen.

Lord, show us your glory!

My Lord's Prayer

My Father who dwells in heaven, you are holy and I will strive to always revere your name and treat it with respect. You are the Creator of all things, yet, you allow me to commune with you and have fellowship with you. What grace!

Father, I long for the day when your kingdom from heaven will sweep away every corrupt, man-made kingdom and you establish your perfect and eternal reign in the earth.

Your laws and precepts (which have provided me peace and protection) will soon govern the whole earth! All creation will soon know your peace that surpasses understanding as mankind turns from evil and fixes their gaze on you—the very embodiment of love.

Feed me with the spiritual food that will strengthen me for the challenges of today. I am not satisfied with bread which only fills the stomach, but with every word that comes from your mouth.

Father, forgive me of my sins—both those I commit knowingly and those I overlook; the sins of my actions and the sins that play out in the secret places of my mind.

Wretched as I am, you lift me out of corruption and whisper, 'You are my son, forgiven and loved.'

Prayers from The Father's House

Help me, Lord, to truly know that when I forgive those who sin against me, I invite the light of your forgiveness upon my own failures. Please open the windows of heaven's blessings over my life.

Give me strength to overcome my weaknesses and resist the devil's temptations. And when I fall short of what I know is right, send your angels to guard me and keep me. May I never be drawn away from your presence!

Father, I confess that living in your presence is the key to experiencing your kingdom's power and glory—both now and forever.

Amen.

You Are All I Need

As I rest in your presence, held in your arms, I feel your peace, protection, and steadfast love. Nothing in this world can compare to this. You are all I want, all I need—you are enough. You are my priceless gift.

Thank you for being so near to me. I will love you forever and ever.

Papa, You Are All I Need

Papa, when the world feels like it's spinning out of control, You alone can calm the storm around me. Your beauty surrounds me. I hear it in the wind whispering through the trees. I see it in the sun breaking through the clouds to find me, heal me, and warm me—just as You do. I sense it in the birds singing above all the other noise.

Teach us to keep our eyes fixed on you and the blessings you've given us, so that we strengthen what is good and give no place to what is evil. Remind us that you help when we yield to you. Teach us to step aside, to let you lead, and to leave behind the things of the past that we need to release.

Forgive us for being prideful and thinking we could do it on our own. You only want the best for us, so why wouldn't we want your guidance? Our hope is in you. Give us eyes to see how you are guiding our steps. Hold our hands like we are crossing the street in busy traffic. We trust you.

Our lives are yours. Our breath is yours. Our resources are yours. Our very being is yours. Your blood flows in our veins. We've been reborn. We were bought with a price. We have the honor to become your chosen children. We get to abide in you and then become your bride—righteous and holy. What an honor. May we never take it for granted.

Thank you for your voice so sweet and loving. Thank you for correcting us and teaching us how to live. Thank you for your freedom. Thank you for taking away past hurts. Thank you for taking away desires for things of this world. Your love for us is amazing! Keep revealing it to me, Papa, increasingly every day. Thank you for coming close to us. I love to be with you.

Amen.

Remove This Burden

Oh Lord, thank you for your never-ending grace and love. I come to you in need. Please remove this burden from me. Please give me courage and strength to endure.

In your name I pray,

Amen.

Wonder of Wonders

Our Father, you are Almighty God, King of Kings, Lord of Lords, Ruler and Judge over all. You know and provide for our every need. You invite us to come close and lay our needs, desires, and hurts before you.

I desire your kingdom in my life and ask that your will be done in me. Not my will, but yours, for I have found that your way is always best. It is the most excellent way.

Work in me your forgiveness and grant me the gift of repentance. Fill me with your Word and your Spirit, so I can handle temptation the way Jesus did. Deliver me from evil—the evil within me and the evil around me.

Open my eyes to see as you see and my ears to hear as you hear. Help me to recognize the deceptions and lies of the enemy. Help me to stand in the authority you have given me in your name!

I can ask these things because yours is the kingdom, yours is the power, and yours is the glory—all of it, forever and ever!

From My Heart

Father God, you are good, holy, loving, just, righteous, fair, treasured above everything, abounding in joy, my everything. May your glory be shed abroad across the whole cosmos. You are awesome and powerful, and I long for the day when everyone sees you for who you are.

The thought of you fills me with holy awe. At a single word or look from you, the hardest hearts melt. I long to see the place where you dwell—it must be as magnificent and glorious as you, reflecting the beauty of your heart.

I long to see everything through your eyes and know what you want me to know about it all. I want to always stay in your heart. The love I feel for you pales in comparison to what you deserve, Father God. Give me more love that I can pour back on you—from my heart to yours.

To Know You More

Dearest Father, you are Mighty and Most Holy. No one compares to you!

Help me to know you more. Please teach me your ways. I long for your presence. Help me to keep my eyes on you alone. Let the cares of this world fade away. I want to see you, O Most High.

There Is No One Like You

You are faithful in all of your ways. When I was lost, you found me. You took notice of me, reached down your hand and pulled me close. Praise your merciful name.

When I was running, and going my own way, you waited patiently for me, drawing me in with your love. Praise your merciful name.

When I was overwhelmed with heavy burdens, you were my rock and my shelter. You sheltered me under the shadow of your wings and quieted my soul. Praise your gracious name.

When I was desperate and in need of your help, you heard me. You listened to my voice, and cared for me. You heard my prayers, and answered them, proving your goodness, once again. Praise your gracious name.

When I was broken, and wounded inside, you healed me. You saw my condition and rescued me. You cared about my brokenness and showed me your love. Praise your compassionate name.

When I was bound by sin, and wrapped in chains, you freed me. You broke sin's hold on me and sent my enemies running. You gave me a victory I'd always wanted. Praise your powerful name.

When I was dirty and filled with shame, you cleaned me, and emptied me, and filled me with your love. You gave me strength where there was weakness, and you gave me light where there was darkness. Praise your holy name.

You've done all this for me, and so much more. Yet, you are still saving, still patiently waiting, still listening, still answering, still healing, still rescuing, still cleansing, and still loving. Praise your faithful name.

You Are My King

Jesus, I want to see your face. Let me experience the glory of an hour spent face-to-face with you. Show me your ways. Reveal to me your heart's longings.

You are my King—the One who is, who was, and who forever will be. You are the Ancient of Days—the Ruler who fills all space and time. You uphold all creation by the power of your word—yet you choose to spend time with me, communing in the secret places of my heart.

To think that the King of Glory would humble himself to meet with me each day! It is too wonderful for me to comprehend. You are my King! The One and Only! And it's my honor to pass the time with you!

Walking With Me

Holy Spirit, help me find the words to pray. Thank you for interceding for me when my groanings are too deep for words. Even when I stumble and struggle with my thoughts and feelings, you remain steadfast. My emotions don't frighten you—you understand me when no one else does.

Jesus, you search my heart and see my desire for you. Thank you that you do not demand perfection, only a willing heart. You stepped out of eternity into time, and you know what it means to carry the weight of time. Even now, you walk through it with me. Lord, whenever my understanding of time and patience drifts from yours, gently draw me back to your perspective.

My Friend, my Beloved, behold, you are doing a new thing, and I am filled with excitement to see how wonderfully you will move.

Thank You for completing the work you began within me. I cling to your beautiful promises. I love you.

Amen.

Jesus, You Know Me

Jesus, you know me. You draw near to me and care for me. Are my words enough to thank you? Do my actions truly honor you?

You have given me all things that pertain to life and godliness. Without you I am nothing. You came and found me, picked me up, and washed me clean with your blood. You said, "You are mine." You've brought me into your family forever; never to be abandoned or rejected again.

I am safe in your arms. You've made a home for me. It's all so amazing. So hard to believe. You've given me a new heart to love as you love. What a God! What a God!

Thank you.

Jesus Reflects The Father

Thank you, Lord Jesus, for the gift of your presence. It never gets old. You are inexhaustible. Fountains of living waters are found in you, springing up unto eternal life. Jesus, Yeshua, you make all things new. I praise you for this!

You satisfy me—yes, from the surface all the way down to the deepest places within. Only you, only you. O Holy One, Worthy One, Magnificent One, I stand in awe of you, in awe of your ways.

You are Love. You are a consuming fire. I thank you for your justice. I thank you for your mercy. Who is like you, God?

Oh Jesus, I long for you—to sit by the fire under the night sky with you, to hear your words and know your voice. You have captured my heart. I want to see you fully, to walk the road with you, watching every move, every interaction.

You said, “Philip, have I been with you so long and you still haven’t seen me?” Yes, Jesus—you have shown me the Father! Abba, Abba, Abba! Thank you, Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God. I thank you, my Creator.

Heal My Broken Heart

Lord, thank you for always loving me and never leaving my side. Thank you for drawing me to yourself. Please continue to heal my body, my mind, and my heart. Help me to do your work and become who you have called me to be.

Father, forgive me for the times I have not fully trusted you and tried to do things my own way. I repent and place my faith in you again. Please give me courage, strength, wisdom, trust, love, and hope.

Heal my broken heart and lift away the heaviness, so that I may be filled with your presence.

Amen.

Yet You Love

How is it, Lord, that you still wait for me to return home? When loneliness presses in and I withdraw, you remain. When I falter and fail, you stay. You seek. I've given you countless reasons to turn away, yet you remain. Yet you wait. Yet you love.

Thank you, Lord.

I Need Your Help

Dear Heavenly Father, thank you for being so gracious and merciful. I thank you for the countless blessings you provide for me and my family.

Please give me the strength to walk in your footsteps, Jesus. Help me to not fall into the devil's traps. Please bless and protect my spouse, my children, and my family. Help me to be a strong spiritual leader and a good role model. Use me as your vessel, Lord.

Thank you for all that you do.

In Jesus' name, Amen.

Section 2

Your Righteousness!

Heavenly Father, I pause now to consider your justice, judgment, and righteousness. Can it be that the righteous judgment displayed in the Old Testament—poured out against sin and rebellion—is the very same righteousness now imparted to me through the Gospel? In righteousness you judge nations, expose injustice, and punish iniquity. Yet, in the mystery of the Gospel, this same righteousness has been given to me as a gift.

Jesus, thank you for fulfilling God's justice and clothing me in your righteousness. Wow! Amazing! This is a priceless gift.

What once condemned me, now covers me. What once revealed my failure is now the very thing that declares me free. It's no longer a sword raised against me, but a robe wrapped around me. I allow the truth of your grace to flow over me. I am eternally grateful for it. Thank you, Jesus. Thank you, Father God. Thank you, Holy Spirit.

I love your righteousness. I no longer fear it. I run to it. What a powerful poetic turn of events. Your judgment became my mercy, your wrath—my love, your justice—my justification.

Prayers from The Father's House

Jesus, thank you for freeing me from guilt, shame, and the bondage of sin. Thank you for giving me the freedom to live in your righteous robe, filled with your righteous Spirit, in union with your righteous Father! What an amazing Savior you are!

Lord, I Come To You

Lord, I come hungry. Feed me the bread of life.

I come open. Fill me with your Spirit.

I come seeking. Reveal your kingdom to me.

I come broken. Heal me by your word.

Fix My Eyes On The Throne

Psalm 110:1 says, “The Lord says to my Lord: ‘Sit at My right hand until I make your enemies your footstool.’”

Jesus, you knew your destination—the right hand of the Father—yet you endured such great suffering to reach it. I marvel at how, in the face of your enemies, you stayed fixed on the authority and victory that awaited you.

Lord Jesus, help me to suffer well as you did, to endure as you did. Thank you for your determination, perseverance, suffering, and love. Teach me to fix my eyes on the throne, just as you did. I love you, Jesus!

Draw Me Close

Lord, draw me close to you. Help me to seek you more each day, to resist the pull of this world, and to boldly share your Word with others.

Thank you for your goodness toward us, even when we did not deserve it, and thank you for the gift of family and friends who love you.

Amen.

Faithful To His Calling

Thank you, Jesus, for being faithful to the cross. You, the Son of God, humbled yourself by becoming a man—not just any man, but the One sent to serve, to seek, and to save. You obeyed the Father's will, even when it meant walking the path of suffering.

Teach me not to avoid suffering, but give me strength and endurance to run the race you've called me to run. Use any and all suffering along your path for my life to purify me and make me holy. Take me deeper in my love for you and in my relationship with you.

I pray that I may know you, the power of your resurrection, and the fellowship of your sufferings. Thank you for being our example in your obedience to the Father, even unto death. May I walk in the same obedience, love, and devotion to the Father's plans!

Give me your strength, Lord! I need it! I must have it! Without it, I am weak; but with it, I can overcome the fiercest lion! I can do all things through you, the One who gives me strength.

Adoration For The Lord

Neither Paul nor Luke walked with you on earth as the other apostles did, yet they knew you and your heart. They walked in the Spirit with you, performed miracles, and wrote about you—showing me what is possible for me as well.

So I choose to come away with you, to discover what's on your heart. What are you doing today, Lord—may I do it with you?

It is such a joy to spend time with you today, and I plan to return again tomorrow. Your presence is my delight; what a wonder you are!

Be Opened (Ephphatha)

Open our ears so we can hear you.

Open our eyes so we can see you.

Open our hearts so we can know you.

Open our hands so we can serve you.

Open our minds so we can behold you.

I Come As A Child

Lord Jesus, I come to you as a child, with simplicity and no other motive than to be with you. Grant me innocent eyes to see you as you truly are. Fill me with the expectant faith of a child, unhindered by doubt. Instill in me an ever-increasing sense of wonder, so I never grow weary of seeking after you.

Deliver me from pride and the fear of man so that I can worship you freely. Give me the curiosity of a child so that I never stop asking you questions. Fill me with continual awe as I behold you through your creation.

Grant me the boldness of a child to come to you as I am, knowing that the kingdom of heaven belongs to those who come as a child.

In Jesus' name,

Amen.

Let Every Child Hear And Proclaim

Father, let every child, young and old, know your name. Empower your faithful witnesses to shout from every corner of the earth that Jesus is Lord! Jesus saves! Jesus loves! Jesus is Lord over all!

Lord, fill me with a willing spirit to boldly declare that Jesus is the Savior of the world. Let my witness be more than outward signs—may my words, my actions, and my very life reveal the greatness of who He is.

Lord, let the name of Jesus be spoken by every tongue in the next generation. Let every ear hear, every eye see, and every heart burn with the truth that Jesus is Lord!

Use me as a vessel to shine Your light and lift the name of Jesus high. Give me eyes to see that every soul—saved or unsaved—is precious to you.

Father, show me your glory!

I Believe In Jesus

Beautiful Savior and Conquering King, I hear your Spirit whisper, "Believe in me!" In response my heart cries out, "Lord, I believe."

I believe in the One who is called Faithful and True. I believe in the One who is perfect in His judgment and righteous in all his ways. I believe in the One whose words are spirit and life. I believe in the One who is steadfast and sure; the One who has never let me down. I believe in Jesus.

Father, you commanded all mankind to believe in the Son. Believing in him is the only way to you and the only path to eternal life. Oh, what confidence you have in the Son. You trust Him such that He could say, "All that the Father has is mine." If you trust Him completely, then so do I.

Jesus, I believe in you. By your strength I will obey you without reservation and without hesitation. May my prayers reflect that I believe in you. May mountains move, suns stand still, giants fall, demons flee, walls fall down, prison doors open, and prodigals come home because I dared to believe in you.

Awaken this generation to truly believe in you. Lord, start with me.

Amen.

Search, Shine, Cleanse, and Purify

God, you are merciful and full of forgiveness. When I feel surrounded by condemnation and shame, your love drives them away. Search me and uncover any sin in me. Shine the light of your holiness into the dark places of my heart. Cleanse and purify me.

Make me a worthy vessel of your Spirit who dwells within me. Guard me from pride that excuses my sin. Teach me to walk in humility, ready to receive your instruction, correction, and discipline—whether it comes directly from you or through others.

Help me to acknowledge my wrongs quickly and confess them before they are ever brought to light by someone else.

Keep the soil of my heart from becoming rocky. Instead, let the fruit of the Spirit grow in abundance. Remind me of your patience and love toward me when I'm tempted with bitterness. Speak to me, God, and let my heart hear what you are saying.

Do A Work In Me

Here I am again, Father, seeking your face. Day by day I come, asking you to uncover and strip away every self-defense I have built. Tear down the walls of distrust, pride, and prejudice. Expose what must be repented of, broken off, and surrendered fully to you.

Heal and deliver me that I may be enabled by the Holy Spirit to walk in your wonderful ways. Cleanse me and fill me with you, so that in and through me your fullness and glory are expressed on the earth.

A Living Letter

Lord, make me a living letter—not written with ink, but by the Spirit of the living God. Your unconditional love has filled my life; let it overflow through me so others are drawn to you by what they see.

You have written on the tablet of my heart, and I long for all who meet me to read the story of your love. Continue writing, Lord—make me a love letter authored by you for the world to see.

A Warrior's Prayer

Lord God Almighty, anchor me firmly in you as I align my life with your Word and your truth, standing rooted in your power. Father, grant me access to the nations through intercession.

I pray for the power of the Holy Spirit to strengthen every light that shines in the darkness. Let the sword of the Spirit cut through the heavy oppression of the enemy.

I plead for all those stuck in cycles of sin who see no way out. I lift my hand against the darkness that surrounds them and command every spirit of addiction, depression, and suicide to flee and bow before King Jesus.

I repent for the sins of the fathers and mothers before me and cut any generational lines that lead to death. Jesus, I invite you to come with new life and new light.

Father, I stand on your promises by faith and declare that all sickness must flee in the light of Christ. By the stripes of Jesus, all that is broken is being restored and healed.

Lord, pour out your anointing oil upon those who are facing heartache. Wrap them in your love and comfort as they walk through confusion and grief with you, Jesus. Hide them in the shelter of your wings and surround them with the healing power of your Spirit.

Prayers from The Father's House

Lord, show us your glory! Amen.

I Leave It At Your Feet

Yeshua, help me not to take back what I have laid at your feet. It is easy to surrender to you, for there are no better hands to entrust my burdens to, and nowhere else I would want them to rest. Teach me to place them on the altar and walk away with joy, fully trusting you.

Thank you for caring for me with such tenderness. In my distress, I find comfort knowing you understand my pain like no other, and you also share in my joy like no other. Father, guard the spark of joy within me and let it grow into a blazing fire.

Thank you for seeing me. Thank you for listening to me. Thank you for understanding me—your child, your beloved.

Thank you for desiring me. Thank you for admiring me. Thank you for choosing me. Your beloved. This fellowship is beautiful. Amen.

Jehovah Jireh

Jesus, you instruct me to look at the birds, for they don't plant or harvest or store food in barns, yet the Father feeds them. You say to look at the lilies of the field and observe how they grow, for they don't work or make their clothing, yet Solomon in all his glory was not dressed as beautifully as they are.

You say that I am more valuable to you than the birds and the wildflowers.

Jesus, your words are true. Help me to have faith that I am more valuable to you than the birds and flowers of this earth and that if you provide for them, you will provide for me.

Father, I repent for every moment I've allowed worry to take root in my heart. Forgive me for doubting your provision and letting my thoughts be consumed by my own wants and desires. I repent for the times anxiety has overshadowed my trust in you.

Help my thoughts to not be dominated by the worries of today, and help me to rest in knowing that you know my needs before I even think to ask for them.

Prayers from The Father's House

Help me to focus on seeking first the kingdom of God and your righteousness, knowing that you will provide everything I need. May my worries never hinder me from furthering your kingdom.

Father, I thank you for all the ways you've provided for me. Throughout my life, I clearly see your hand of provision. Whether in times of lack or times of plenty, you were there caring for my needs. I can rest knowing that what you've done in the past, you will do today. Help my mind to be free of worry, confident that you will provide because you are Jehovah Jireh.

I Was Made To Worship

Jesus, at your feet I discover the reason why I was made—to worship you. I join the angels and elders right now in praising you!

I long for the day when all creation stands before you in wonder and bows before you in worship!

Amen.

Prayer For Wisdom

In the book of James, you promise that if I ask for wisdom, you will give it freely. Thank you for your Word and for your faithful promises. Right now I open my heart, my mind, and my hands to receive the wisdom that you long to give.

Your Word says that wisdom from above is pure, peaceful, and gentle. Holy Spirit, please work this wisdom in and through me.

Jesus, you are our wisdom, our virtue, our holiness, and our redemption. Weave my whole being into oneness with you. You are my one and only true source of wisdom.

Amen.

Give Me A Clean Heart

Lord, thank you for this day and for the gift of another opportunity to share your love and truth with someone who may not yet know it. Thank you for the doors you place before me and for the assurance that you go with me and go ahead of me to prepare the way.

I lift my hands up to you, O God. I surrender all to you. Clear my mind of distractions and purify my heart. Please show me any hindrances that may be keeping me from hearing you clearly.

Lord, grant me discernment to recognize truth from lies throughout my day. Let your Word be deeply written on my heart, and guide me to the Scripture I need for today.

Give me wisdom to filter all that I hear and see. Protect my heart from the corruption of this world, and keep me from falling into sin. Lord, be my guiding light.

Show me your glory!

Amen.

Lord, How Long?

Jesus, our world is broken. I grieve at the way in which evil flourishes. It reigns in the hearts of the wicked and imposes its vicious will on the innocent.

Lord, how long will this go on? When will you rend the heavens and come down to us? When will you come and impose your will upon the wicked? I long for your righteousness to fill the earth and the hearts of all mankind. Come, Lord Jesus!

I declare today that you have given sufficient grace for us to endure every hardship under the sun. Even more, you have given us your promise that you have overcome the evil one. Greater is He that is in me than he that is in the world.

Help me to live as an overcomer today. Guide me in paths of righteousness. Guard me from discouragement.

I will not fret because of the waves. I will keep my eyes on you.

Amen.

Love Like Jesus

Yahweh, self-existent, three-in-one, most holy one, I humble myself in your presence and give you my love. This is the first and great commandment in the Law: that I would love you with all my heart, soul, mind, and strength. So, once again, I give you my affections, my attention, my devotion, and my life. I give you my love.

Help me today to love others in the same way that the Lord Jesus has loved me. He loves me with no conditions. His love is selfless, generous, patient, and kind. Holy Spirit, guide and empower me to love like Jesus today.

May I never grow weary of your love for me. It is what first drew me to you and will remain my source of joy forever. Thank you, Lord, for your unfailing love.

Amen.

COMMUNITY PRAYERS

Section 3

Wake Us From Our Slumber

Wake up your church, Lord! Cause your bride to wake from her sleep. Awaken her to prayer! Open her eyes so she may see the condition of her heart. Let her fall to her knees in humble repentance. Apart from you, O Lord, we can do nothing!

Let the Spirit of prayer and intercession sweep across your church. Would it come like the strong waves of the ocean and powerfully sweep us off our feet.

May your church be drenched in prayer, like a sudden downpour that leaves nothing untouched. Draw us back to our first Love, the Source of our strength. Teach us to abide in you once more, and let your Word dwell deeply within us.

Make us holy! Purify your church! May holy hands be lifted up in prayer to you, Father, making intercession for all people.

Cause your church to be more devoted to prayer than any program. We have busied ourselves with many things but have neglected a far greater priority. Forgive us, Lord! Why have we neglected such a privilege and responsibility? Do we think ourselves strong when we are actually weak? Is the strength of man enough for us?

Prayers from The Father's House

Forgive us for our pride and arrogance! We are nothing without you, Lord. May now be the time that your church lays hold of your promises, believes them with all of its heart, and clings to them in faith.

Move mountains, heal the sick, save the nations, and bring the kingdom of heaven down to earth. Do all this through the prayers of your people.

Wake up your church, Lord! Wake us up to the glorious privilege, power, and responsibility of prayer.

Be Near To Me

Be near to me, Lord, in times of crisis. Stay close – don't abandon me! Show me your patient and forgiving ways. Give me your words, your heart, and your eyes today. Set my affection on things above, not on things below.

Pour your healing oil on my hurting heart and fix my eyes on you.

Jesus, come close.

Help Me To Not Live In The Past

Lord, help me to let go of the former things and not dwell on the past. Teach me how to look back without being consumed by it. You are doing a new thing! How wonderful and exciting, Lord—it is springing up! Help me to perceive it.

Thank you for making a way in the wilderness and for carrying me when I was too weak to walk. Holy Spirit, thank you for providing streams of living water that refresh me in this dry land.

Father, I repent of impatience and bitterness. Please remove these afflictions from my heart. You have turned my heart of stone into a heart of flesh—do not let present struggles make me believe it has turned back again.

Thank you for blessing me even in hiddenness, for restoring my soul, and for renewing my mind. Your promises are true.

Holy God, may your power be known through me. Thank you for loving me. May my life bring glory to your name. All praise to you, Lord!

Amen.

Yahweh Nissi

Jesus, the prophet Isaiah spoke by the Spirit when he said that you will stand as a Banner of Salvation for the nations. He prophesied that the nations would inquire of you. The grass withers, the flower fades, but the Word of the Lord endures forever.

You are the Banner of Salvation for the nations! This is our reality. Your prophets prophesied that the nations would seek after the Root of Jesse, and now we seek your face! We long for your presence! We worship at your feet! We shout your name and proclaim your greatness! We submit to you as King and honor you as Lord of all!

Your throne, O God, endures forever and ever. You rule with a scepter of justice. You love justice and hate evil. Therefore, O God, your God has anointed you, pouring out the oil of joy on you more than on anyone else.

Creator, Redeemer, Savior, Lord, and Friend, I will lift your banner high today. May the nations continue to seek you with ever-increasing wonder and joy.

Ablaze With Your Holy Love

I gently touched the hem of your garment.
You clothed me in your royal robe.

I tiptoed into your shallow stream. You submerged me in your depths of love.

I glanced to see you high and uplifted. You showered me in your glory and opened the eyes of my heart.

I came to you with a flickering flame. You baptized me with fire and set me ablaze with your holy love.

Thank you, Jesus. Thank you.

Because We Know

In Job 42:5, Job declares, “My ears had heard of you, but now my eyes have seen you.”

When Job truly saw you, Lord, it brought him to repentance. In that moment, he realized how little he truly knew—about himself, about you, and about the world in which he lived.

Lord, let us not be a people who only hear about you, but a people who truly see you. Reveal to each of us a vision of yourself that transforms us from the inside out. Show us your face, your glory, and your holiness.

Grant us clarity and understanding through encounters with you, just as Job experienced, so that we may know you more deeply and walk in alignment with your purpose and will. Amen.

Illuminate Hearts Today

Lord Jesus, long ago you spoke, and your words caused light to shine in the darkness. By your very words the world was brought into being. I'm in awe of this power. I honor you as the Sovereign Creator, Almighty God, and Lord of Glory.

Let the entrance of your words now give light to our world once again. Shine in our darkness, Lord! Illuminate hearts today with your words. Shine on those who stumble about in darkness. Shine on your church, Lord, by speaking words of revelation, instruction, and exhortation.

Your words are more valuable to us than gold and silver. Speak, Lord! Fill us with your light.

As I walk in this dark world today, may the light of Christ shine through me.

Amen.

Life's Cares

Come, Holy Spirit, and help me lay my cares at Jesus' feet. Free me from the worries of this world and lift from me the burdens that are not mine to bear.

Help me to run after you, my Shepherd, with joy and freedom, trusting that you care for me and for those I love.

Change Our Nation

Lord, when injustice fills the land, our hearts ache with anger and confusion. Teach us, Jesus, to respond as you would—to grieve with compassion, to forgive with grace, and to love with courage. We need your heart and your mind in these chaotic days. Remember us, Lord, and let your mercy cover our nation.

Thank you, Lord, that in all the pain of this broken world, you are with us. You have not stepped back but stepped closer. I pray that even through injustice, your glory would shine more and more. Raise up your people in prayer and worship, with hearts turned fully toward you.

Fill us, Lord. Sweep over this country, Holy Spirit. May our lives bring glory to your name. Amen.

Lord, Live In Me

Lord, today I remember who you are and give thanks that you are my all in all. There is no need I have that you do not satisfy, no lack you cannot meet. El Shaddai, in you all fullness dwells, and from your fullness I receive everything I need.

You nourish, supply, and satisfy. You are all-bountiful and all-sufficient. My hands are lifted to you in worship, ready to receive all that you are. You are Jehovah—the One continually revealing yourself, your ways, and your purposes to those who seek you.

I seek you now. You are my heart, my life, my everything, and there is so much more of you to discover. Reveal yourself to me more and more. Fill me with the indwelling fullness of God, as Paul spoke of in Ephesians.

Come dwell in me so completely that there is no room left for sin, the world, or the flesh.

Pray Through Me

Lord Jesus, you are the Great Intercessor of Heaven. Don't just teach me to pray—give me your prayers.

Thank you, Holy Spirit, for interceding for me and praying through me. I don't need to know everything, for you already do.

Here I am, Lord, with my hands, heart, and mind open to receive the blessings you have prepared for me from the foundation of the world—good gifts from my good, loving Father.

The Fragrance Of Your Presence

Lord, I desire to carry you so close to my heart that the fragrance of your presence continually stirs the embers of love within me. Let it be a perfect exchange: may your fragrance ignite my love, and may the warmth of my love for you awaken the fragrance of your Spirit in me—covering the stench of my sins and all the residue of this broken world.

May the beautiful aroma of your grace, mercy, and love be the scent that others experience when they come near me. The deepest longing of my heart is to always remain in the fragrance of your presence.

Lord Jesus, I ask that my life would be a pleasing aroma to you. I love you, Jesus! May I always live in the fragrance of your presence.

Amen.

Lord, Help Me Forgive

Oh Jesus, at your feet there is forgiveness. Bring to mind anyone I need to forgive. Would you bring them into this space with us?

As I look to you, I find myself saying to them, "I love you, I forgive you, and I bless you to fulfill all that God has called you to do."

Jesus, at your feet how can anything but your love remain? May I always remain in your light and in this place of deep revelation and healing love.

My Life is Just a Vapor

O Lord, may your name be praised forever!
Most Holy One, I am eternally yours. Who am I, that you would care so deeply for me?

Though my life is but a vapor, make it a sweet-smelling incense for your pleasure.

Though I am a mist—here today and gone tomorrow—use me to refresh those in need.

Though I bloom only for a moment, let me reflect your beauty and draw people into your presence.

Lord, restore to me the time I've spent chasing the wind, that I may now pursue your Spirit with all my heart.

May my heart beat in rhythm with yours.. I breathe in your life-giving breath and breathe out your praise. My soul is forever and completely yours.

May your Name be praised forever!

Worship The Son

Father, as the sun sets on another day, I pause to fix my eyes and heart on your wonderful Son, Jesus. Holy Spirit, guide me and empower me to worship my Savior in Spirit and in truth.

Jesus, you have been given the name that is above every name. At your name, every knee will one day bow and every tongue will confess that you are Lord and Christ.

After you have raised humanity from their graves, they will be given the privilege to proclaim your excellence in one mighty chorus! You alone are worthy of such honor and adoration!

You are the Creator of all things seen and unseen. By the word of your power, all things in the cosmos are held together. You are glorious in majesty, perfect in splendor, altogether lovely. You are matchless in beauty. Holy, Holy, Holy!

My heart has caught a glimpse of you and I can't look away. My whole self—body, soul, and spirit—comes alive in your presence.

May I live in the reality today that I am in Jesus and He is in me. Wonder of wonders.

Mystery of mysteries. Grace upon grace.

Amen.

The Wonder And Power Of The Word

Jesus, I am overwhelmed by the wonder and power of your Word! Your Word meets me and pierces my heart. Lord, pierce my heart with what pierces yours.

Your Word judges the thoughts and intentions of my heart. Come, Lord—judge, weigh, measure, and remove all that is unworthy of you.

Your Word cleanses me. It heals me—spirit, soul, and body. It transforms and makes me new.

Today, Lord, may Your words flow from my mouth and bring transformation to the world around me.

God's Goodness Endures

Father, you are eternally and entirely good. Your perfect love is unconditional. It endures forever.

Prayers from The Father's House

Jesus, you are eternally and entirely good. Your perfect love is unconditional. It endures forever.

Holy Spirit, you are eternally and entirely good. Your perfect love is unconditional. It endures forever.

When the enemy tempts me to doubt your goodness and love, I will respond with this declaration: "Yahweh is good! His faithful love endures forever!"

May we, your people, remember your goodness and love all the days of our lives.

Amen.

APPENDIX I: Pray Like An Apostle

The Apostle John wrote in 1 John 5:14:

“This is the confidence that we have toward Him, that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us.”

One of the first challenges we encounter in prayer is learning how to align our hearts with God’s will. Thankfully, we’re not left to figure this out on our own. The Holy Spirit helps us in our weakness, interceding before the Father with groanings too deep for words (Romans 8:26–27).

Another way the Spirit helps to pray is in the way that he inspired the apostles to record many of their prayers in the New Testament for our encouragement and growth. These written prayers serve as guideposts, showing us how to pray in full harmony with God’s heart. Because they were breathed out by the Spirit, we can trust that each one perfectly reflects His will. What a priceless gift!

In this appendix, you'll find eleven of these prayers, each slightly adapted for personal use. Some pronouns have been replaced with blanks so you can easily insert the names of those you're praying for. As you do, you can intercede with bold confidence, knowing you're asking for the very things God Himself delights to give.

The ministry of intercession is a precious gift from the Lord. It's more than just praying for others—it's joining in agreement with Jesus himself, who lives forever to intercede for us (Hebrews 7:25). Intercession is one of the greatest joys in prayer, for it is a direct partnership with Christ in bringing the Father's will to pass in the lives of others.

Here's a simple way to begin: after your personal time of prayer, pause and ask the Father, "Who do you want me to pray for today?" He may place on your heart a friend, family member, coworker, leader, or even someone from your past. Whoever he brings to mind, choose one or two of the apostolic prayers and intercede for them by name.

Pray Like An Apostle

If you feel led, consider letting the person know how you prayed for them. A simple message such as, “I prayed this Scripture over you today,” can be an incredible encouragement and might touch their heart in ways you cannot imagine.

May the apostles’ prayers come alive in your own life, bringing God’s blessing, strength, and presence to you and those you pray for.

11 Apostolic Prayers

Bless Them

2 Corinthians 13:14

May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with _____.

Fill Them with Joy and Peace

Romans 15:13

May the God of hope fill _____ with all joy and peace in believing, so that by the power of the Holy Spirit _____ may abound in hope.

Prepare Them for the Day of Christ

Philippians 1:9–11

It is my prayer that _____'s love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, so that _____ may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

Give Them the Spirit of Wisdom and Revelation

Ephesians 1:17–20

I pray that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give _____ the Spirit of wisdom and of revelation in the knowledge of him, having the eyes of their heart enlightened, that _____ may know what is the hope to which God has called them, what are the riches of His glorious inheritance in the saints, and what is the immeasurable greatness of his power toward us who believe, according to the working of his great might that He worked in Christ when He raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly places.

Equip Them to Do God's Will

Hebrews 13:20–21

Now may the God of peace who raised our Lord Jesus from the dead, our Great Shepherd of the sheep, by the blood of the eternal covenant, equip _____ with all that he/she needs to carry out and complete his/her heavenly assignment and do the Father's will, working into his/her very being that which is pleasing in His sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Sanctify Them Completely

1 Thessalonians 5:23–24

Now may the God of peace Himself completely sanctify _____ and may _____'s whole spirit and soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. He, who calls _____ faithful, will surely bring it to pass.

The Knowledge of God's Will

Colossians 1:9–14

May _____ be filled with the knowledge of God's will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so as to walk in a manner worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him: bearing fruit in every good work and increasing in the knowledge of God; being strengthened with all power, according to His glorious might, for all endurance and patience with joy; giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified _____ to share in the inheritance of the saints in light. He has delivered _____ from the domain of darkness and transferred him/her to the kingdom of His beloved Son, in whom _____ has redemption, the forgiveness of sins.

Establish Them in Every Good Work

2 Thessalonians 2:16–17

Now may our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, who loved us and gave us eternal comfort and a good hope through grace, comfort _____'s heart and establish him/her in every good work leading to the pouring out of God's eternal blessing.

Guard Them Against the Evil One

2 Thessalonians 3:3, 5

The Lord is faithful. He will establish and guard _____ against the plan of the evil one. May the Lord direct his/her heart to the love of God and to the steadfastness of Christ.

May They Abound in Love

1 Thessalonians 3:11–13

Now may our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, direct _____'s way . . . and may the Lord make _____ increase and abound in love for one another and for all . . . so that He may establish _____'s heart blameless in holiness before our God and Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus with all His saints.

Fill Them with the Fullness of God

Ephesians 3:14–19

I bow my knees before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth is named, that according to the riches of His glory He may grant _____ to be strengthened with power through His Spirit in their inner being, so that Christ may dwell in _____'s heart through faith—that _____, being rooted and grounded in love, may have strength to comprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that _____ may be filled with all the fullness of Go
