

WRITER

The Comms Team is led by: Natalia Rego

Overview of the team

Join a passionate team dedicated to sharing the heart and mission of our church with the wider community and beyond. Through creative storytelling, engaging content, and vibrant visuals, you'll help inspire, connect, and drive engagement across our multiple communications platforms—from social media and email marketing to print ads and more. Whether capturing unique moments through photography, expressing the flavour of who we are through videography, or bringing our events to life with heartfelt storytelling and writing, your work will embody our values and shine God's love brightly in every piece of content. This role is perfect for someone eager to serve with creativity and purpose, helping to grow our creative portfolio, raise brand awareness, and extend our reach far and wide.

Overview of the role

Are you passionate about words and inspired by the power of a story? As a writer and storyteller, you'll play a key role in capturing and sharing the heart of what God is doing in and through our church events and ministry activities. Whether it's writing testimonies, event recaps or content for our newsletters, your words will help connect people, communicate vision, and shine a light on lives being transformed. This role is perfect for someone with a gift for writing, a love for people's stories, and a desire to use their creativity to serve God's mission.

Time and Location

The volunteer Comms Team will serve on a rota, covering a variety of events throughout the week, including Sunday mornings. Most events requiring a writer present to capture material will take place onsite at King's Community Church, with occasional events happening offsite. Volunteers will have access to a schedule of upcoming events and can opt in to participate based on their availability. This flexible approach ensures key moments are captured while allowing team members to serve in a way that fits their personal schedule

What we're looking for:

- Has a passion for writing and a heart for storytelling
- Possesses strong written communication skills with good grammar and attention to detail
- Can write in a warm, engaging tone that reflects the heart and values of the church
- Is able to listen well and sensitively capture people's testimonies and experiences
- Is creative, self-motivated, and able to work independently or as part of a team
- Is open to feedback and willing to edit or revise work as needed
- Understands—or is willing to learn—our church's voice, vision, and communication guidelines
- Respects confidentiality and approaches every story with sensitivity and care
- Is reliable and able to manage deadlines for content submissions
- Is happy to serve on a flexible rota, opting in to events based on availability
- Will adhere to safeguarding and visual image consent policies at all times

How often you'll serve:

- We will aim to accommodate serving on team once or twice a month, depending on number of key events taking place in the month.
