

Libby Johnson

About me: I was born and raised in Sheldon, Iowa, and graduated from Northwestern College in Orange City, Iowa, where I met my husband Kyle. I moved to Worthington in 2021. I love to goof around and laugh, but I can also be pretty quiet and reflective at times.

Hobbies: In my free time I love to do anything artsy! I enjoy selling cakes as a side business, playing French Horn in WASO, and love to be outside going for walks or hikes with Kyle.

Favorite Books: Liturgy of the Ordinary by Tish Harrison Warren, You Are What You Love by James K.A. Smith, and The Gift of Wonder by Christine Aroney-Sine.

Favorite Food/Restaurant: I love really good fish tacos!
