

Dear Praying Friends:

The changing seasons are evident here. My little back patch is full of colorful blossoms. The butterflies and hummingbirds are flitting about the flowers. I even saw a macaw and a few toucans. The days are hotter than they have been in past years and the nights no longer require mounds of blankets. Not only are the seasons changing, but also our seasons of ministry. My co-workers will soon be retiring to the States and I will move on to the next open door that God directs.

Changing ministry locations means closing up shop here. We both need our houses to sell. I am past due for furlough. Please pray for a buyer by the end of October. I hope to be in the States for Thanksgiving. As my mom and I have said, "What a great Thanksgiving blessing a sold house would be."

Though we are in the process of turning the ministry completely into Brazilian hands, we are still heavily involved. This weekend is an area-wide ladies' meeting. We still are continuing to participate in the bi-monthly youth meeting. The first weekend of October, we will be hosting a family event for our church neighbors to get to know us. We need participation from our own members and attenders to make the day effective.

Thank You,

Kelly Love

Pray for:

- Our youth to repent and turn back to Christ.
- Our children to grow. They have no encouragement at home. Many have difficulties reading.
- Many of our members and attenders don't have jobs. The church can't be independent without means to sustain the ministry.
- The final building documents
- Qualified men for deacons
- Qualified children's teachers

Praises:

- Visitors almost every week
