Church Planting Missionaries

DEAR PRAYING FRIENDS,

"Puente Alto" means high bridge. It's the name of a region of Santiago on the south side of the city. It could also be our future home!

We have been praying for years at this point about where to begin our church planting ministry. God has directed our paths little by little. We want to follow His lead through a clear, open door, but the reality is that there are lots of open doors! The tricky part is choosing one out of so many needy areas! Recently, God has given us some opportunities to minister in this area of the city.

Cristian and his family are starting a church in Puente Alto. He is currently leading a weekly Bible study, and they have already connected with several families. He invited me to their Bible study to preach last month. It went well! I love to preach God's Word. Last week, he and I went on an evangelistic outreach together in the sector. We had a few great conversations. We are praying that they would attend the Bible study. There is something very refreshing about sharing your faith. For me, it always has a recentering effect. It reminds me that this is what God has called us as believers to do! Every day is another opportunity to evangelize the lost.

Our baby girl will be born any day now. We are excitedly awaiting her birth! There is nothing like those first few months with a newborn. We are so blessed to be having another baby! Please pray for us during the delivery and recovery. We hope to announce her birth very soon. God bless!

IN CHRIST,

JOE & HALLIE TAYLOR - MATTHEW 22:37
