_____ (Herein the "User") has requested the use of the facilities of University Place Presbyterian Church (UPPC). As a condition to that use, UPPC requires the User release and hold UPPC harmless of any damages or injuries that occur on UPPC's property, including equipment that is brought in.

The User understands that UPPC has many volunteers and visitors at the church and UPPC has little control over what they do on the property. Further, UPPC tries to maintain the church facilities but does not make safety checks on all of its equipment, furnishings or all portions of the building. Because of this, the User understands that it and its employees, members and guests will be responsible for their own safety.

On behalf of the User, its employees, members and guests, the User does hereby release UPPC, its employees, members and guests of and from any and all claims, liabilities, damages or actions with respect to or incurred during the use of any of the property or facilities of UPPC. The User does further agree to hold UPPC, its employees, members and guests harmless from any and all liabilities, damages, attorney fees and costs with respect to any claim or action by the User, its employees, members or guests with respect to or arising during the use of any of the property or facilities of UPPC.

The User has read this Release, understands its contents, and has the authority to sign this agreement.
