LIFE

People helping people live out the unexpected love of Jesus every day.

One of the things that I have the blessing of doing in my role as pastor is spending time in counseling conversations (Note: I'm not a certified biblical counselor). I get to counsel with couples who are looking forward to their wedding day, couples who are already married and are seeking to strengthen their marriages, and several men—some of whom I've been walking with for years. Spending time with folks while we look at the Scriptures and apply them to our lives is a blessing!

Today, I had a counseling appointment with someone that I've been meeting with for a while, and as we talked about the Word, and God moved by His Spirit, we found our reflection on the Scripture taking us to passages that we both needed to hear from the Lord. It was a challenging, exciting, encouraging time of study and discussion as we worked through what the Bible has to say to each of us as Christian men. I'm certain that the time ministered to me as much (or more than) it ministered to him!

As I reflected on this in preparation to write this article, I was convicted by this thought: that conversation happened because we brought the Bible into our discussion. We could have just talked through the things going on in our lives, and I could have given the best advice I could have, but what good would that have done? What we needed was only going to come from God, and it was only going to be found in His holy Word! We need to make sure that we are reading the words of the Bible if we want the word of the Bible to be in, and come out of, us.

Paul wrote to the Romans: "For whatever was written in the past was written for our instruction, so that we may have hope through endurance and through the encouragement of the Scriptures." (15:4, CSB) Spend some time reading the Scriptures. Talk about them. Share with your brothers and sisters what God is saying to you through them. What a joy it is to have God's Word!

Blessings,
Bill
