LIFE

People helping people live out the unexpected love of Jesus every day.

This year the students and I went to Las Vegas for summer missions. Short term mission trips often impact participants even more than the people they serve. Such experiences add depth and dimension to how we see ourselves, others, and even God. An exchange of dialogue in C. S. Lewis's Prince Caspian captures it well—

"Aslan," said Lucy, "you're bigger."

"That is because you are older, little one," answered he.

"Not because you are?"

"I am not. But every year you grow, you will find me bigger."

Students definitely grew on this year's trip and in our other summer programs. I am thrilled by what I see happening in our group in terms of spiritual growth—students learning the joy of service, surrendering the throne of their hearts to the Lord alone, trusting him with suffering, and growing in community. It's awesome!

This mission trip was no different from the rest of the summer in this respect, though perhaps a bit more "concentrated." By far, the biggest change in perspective came in students' perception of people experiencing homelessness. Through conversation, they came to see such people as people. We learned that there were more paths to homelessness than mental illness and addiction. We were also able to serve foster parents by providing some respite care, and we learned about efforts to thwart the trafficking of girls in Las Vegas. And in the middle of all that service, the Lord also drew students together, surprising some with a feeling of belonging that they hoped for but perhaps did not expect. May that belonging trickle over into the rest of our group... and church!

So, big changes in how we perceive ourselves and those around us. My hope now is that such changes accompany growth in our view of God. It isn't just that we are brothers and sisters, but that we are because He is the Father (Eph 3:15). Yes, we served, but that means we joined Him in His work. Lord, as we grow together in You, help us also to grow in our knowledge of You.

Sincerely,
Trevor
