The Staff is currently calendar for the Eastern Hills
2026 year.

If you or your ministry would like to add any event to the 2026 calendar, please fill out a Facilities Use Form (FUF) so that we can check for conflicts,
and schedule.

These forms can be found in the plastic holder outside Joe's office and are very helpful for us to be able to inform the parties
necessary to make sure
your event will happen
without a hitch.

Thank You

LIFE

People helping people live out the unexpected love of Jesus every day.

They've graduated, and though they haven't quite gone, we still certainly miss them. Every August and September the youth ministry goes through substantial changes. "To everything there is a season."

One thing that has been on my mind lately is the parting message I gave to the grads on "finishing well." Using King Uzziah as an example of what not to do (see 2 Chron 26:1-23), we answered the question of H.O.W. to finish well—through humility, obedience, and worship.

These categories are not just relevant for students running the race toward graduation, but for all of us wanting to honor God with this little thing called our life. To that end, here are ten accountability questions based on humility, obedience, and worship that it might be helpful to ask yourself (or to have someone else ask you). These aren't perfect, and you might sub certain questions for others that better fit your circumstances or convictions. But here they are.

On humility: (1) Are you starting each day by humbling yourself before the Lord? (2) Have you thought about yourself this week or denied yourself to consider others? (3) Is there anyone you are struggling to love, forgive or reconcile with?

On obedience: (4) Do you take time in the middle of the day to reorient from the flesh to the spirit? (5) Are there any besetting sins or temptations that you have experienced recently? (6) Are you fulfilling the main callings that God has placed on your life (family, vocation, evangelism, and so on)?

On worship: (7) Do you end each day by recounting its blessings and burdens in prayer to God? (8) Are you setting your mind and heart on "the things above, where Christ is" (Col 3:1; cf. Isa 26:3-4)? (9) Are you experiencing joy in the Lord, truly believing that He exists, and that He knows and loves you?

One last question: (10) Is there anything that you have not been entirely honest about?
