

Laura grew up coming to the mountains of Colorado for vacations and never dreamed she would get to live here. She brings with her more than 40 years of experience leading Bible studies and spiritual formation groups, mentoring, teaching children and youth, and directing volunteer programs in the church and other non-profit organizations.

After earning a degree in Christian Education and Bible from Wheaton College, she took her first job as the Director of Christian Education and Youth Ministry at First Presbyterian Church in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where she met her husband, Pat. Together, they have journeyed through 40+ years of ministry while raising two sons.

Laura is especially excited to help ERPC build on the wonderful cross-generational relationships it enjoys, while strengthening ministries to children, youth and adults as we all grow toward maturity in Christ.
