Draw a map of your neighborhood, marking down neighbors you know by name.	Make extra baked goods to share.	Ask a neighbor for help with something.	Ask a neighbor a question.	Learn more about The Hopeful Neighborhood Project.
Compliment two neighbors.	Research the types of trees found in your neighborhood.	Spend an hour (or two) hanging out in a neighborhood public space (like a park).	Volunteer at a community garden, park, or green space.	Visit your local library and read everything on the bulletin board.
Join (or start) a Facebook or NextDoor group.	Participate in a local library class or event.	Create your own activity or question.	Try a new cuisine at a local restaurant.	Do research to find five new facts about your neighborhood.
Pick up litter with a neighbor.	Meet a neighbor for coffee or a walk around the neighborhood.	Write a thank you note to a community leader.	Attend a local community event.	Share something from your produce or flower garden.
Decorate your neighborhood sidewalks with chalk activities or messages.	Restock a Little Free Library.	Learn the names of three neighbors.	Buy something locally made.	Take a walk and make a list of assets in your neighborhood.
