

DAY 41:

No Competition, Just Completion

The world runs on rivalry, but God's house runs on unity. In Christ, there is no place for jealousy, pride, or self-promotion. The hand doesn't compete with the eye — it complements it.

When we celebrate each other's victories, we all win. When we embrace the strength of another, we are strengthened too. Today, let comparison die. Let community live. Let honour rise. For in Christ, we complete one another.

Reflection Points

1. Am I jealous or threatened by others' strengths?
2. Do I compare myself or compete for recognition?
3. How can I intentionally honour and complete others?

Prayer Points

1. Father, deliver me from envy and pride in the Church.
2. Teach us to honour others without insecurity.
3. Let our strengths complete, not compete, for Your glory.

Confession

I do not compete — I complete. I honour others' grace and walk boldly in mine.
