Course Description

Philosophy 221: Biblical Worldview I (1 credit hour) A Definition & Defense of a Biblical Worldview.

An essential and foundational study of the nature and necessity of a Biblical Worldview, including a solid apologetic for the trustworthiness of a Scriptural view of our existence, purpose, & morality. This study will equip students to develop, defend and base life decisions upon a consistent worldview based upon the absolute truth of the revelation of God in Scripture.

Why a Course on Worldview?

Your worldview is the lens through which you see every area of life and upon which you base your opinions and life decisions. Yet even most Christians have never examined the worldview that they have inherited by default from their secular culture, media & educational system. Therefore most Christians do not understand or live by and cannot articulate or defend a consistent Biblical worldview. This course is designed to transform your worldview and therefore to transform your life, your family, your church & our culture.

How do YOU answer these questions?

- * Does God exist? How can we know, and what difference does it make?
- * Is all human life sacred and worth protecting?
- * Does your life really have value and dignity, and is it really worth living?
- * Does our treatment of others really matter? Why?
- * Are there any absolute truths or values? If so, where do they come from?
- * Can you convince a skeptic that the Bible is the authority on these issues?

This course will help you develop a consistent Worldview based on Scripture. Over 35 years of examining alternative worldviews, philosophies & religions have revealed that the worldview of Biblical theism is objectively true and provides the answers to all of life's most important questions.

Dr. Will Honeycutt
