

Dear DFMC Family,

One of the deepest questions we ask—sometimes out loud, sometimes quietly—is this: “What is my purpose?” Our culture often tells us to look inward for the answer. But in his letter to the church in Philippi, the Apostle Paul points us in a different direction. He shows us that purpose is not something we discover alone, it’s something we live out together.

This Sunday, January 11 at 10:30am, we’ll continue our series The Connected Life by exploring how purpose is formed through connection to a church community, expressed in humility, compassion, and self-sacrificial love.

Paul reminds us that a meaningful life is shaped not by self-promotion, but by:

- Choosing humility over self-focus
- Practicing compassion toward one another
- Living with the mind and heart of Christ

When we are connected to Christ and to one another, purpose becomes clearer—and life becomes richer. This is another great week to invite a friend or family member, especially someone who may be searching for meaning or longing for deeper connection. We look forward to worshiping with you this Sunday at 10:30am as we continue learning what it means to live The Connected Life.

Grace and peace,
Pastor Shane

P.S. This Sunday also marks the beginning of a new Bible class on (GENESIS TITLE), starting at 9:30am. Whether you’re new to Bible study or looking to deepen your understanding of Scripture, this is a great place to jump in!
