ALIGNMENT

WORD OF THE WEEK

Positioned for Purpose

Alignment is not comfort, it is correction. Every time God prepares to advance a people, He first realigns them, because increase without order becomes destruction. This is why the Lord does not announce the destination until He adjusts the direction. Some prayers were delayed, not denied, because your posture did not match the promise. God is not obligated to bless what He did not authorize, and this year He is not dragging anyone forward who refuses to stand straight.

This is the year where God is snapping crooked places back into position. He is aligning minds, motives, relationships, finances, and assignments. What worked last season may now be illegal in the spirit. Alignment requires humility because pride resists recalibration. You cannot walk with God while arguing with His instructions. Heaven moves when agreement is restored.

Alignment brings acceleration. When heaven and earth agree, movement becomes swift. Delays lift when order returns. Confusion breaks when alignment is established. Many people call warfare what is actually misalignment. The moment you line up with God's Word, His will, and His ways, resistance weakens and clarity sharpens. What once took years will begin to happen in months because God is no longer fighting your position.

This new year is not about doing more, it is about standing right. God is aligning you for longevity, not hype. He is aligning you for fruit that remains, not temporary momentum. When alignment is complete, grace flows without striving, doors open without force, and favor rests without chasing. This year, heaven will recognize you because you are finally standing where God assigned you to stand.
