We Are Epic Life: Create Margin

Living for Now or Forever

The rope illustration reminds us of how short this life is compared to eternity. What does it look like, practically, to “leverage this life for the life to come”?

Yes and No: The Stewardship of Choices

Every “yes” we give to something means a “no” to something else. What are some things you may need to say “no” to in order to create margin for God’s best?

Time: Busy or Wise?

Paul urges us in Ephesians 5:15–16 to “make the most of every opportunity.” What’s the difference between being busy and being wise with your time? How can margin help us pursue God’s will more clearly?

Talents in Action

1 Peter 4:10 reminds us that each of us has been entrusted with gifts to serve others. What spiritual gift(s) do you see in yourself—or in others in this group—and how might margin make space to use those gifts more faithfully?

Treasure with Eternal Impact

We often think of treasure as money, but the sermon reminded us that it includes everything God has entrusted to us. What are some practical ways we can use our possessions, homes, or resources to advance the Kingdom of God and bless others?

Prayer Prompt:

Lord, teach us to steward our time, talent, and treasure wisely. Help us to create margin so that we can say ‘yes’ to You and to what matters most. Give us courage to let go of distractions, discipline to live differently from the world, and joy in generosity. May our lives point others to eternity and bring You glory.
