From the Couch

Another Great Vacation Bible School. A sign at the entrance at Camp Meribah in Centerville says, “It is easier to build boys than to mend men.” Every Christian family has an obligation to train their own sons and daughters in God's ways. What should we do about children whose parents are not Christians? VBS is one way to educate those children.

Our thanks to Jeremy & Denise Petty for their work in directing VBS. We are also thankful to those who cooked meals, decorated, taught classes, wrote & acted in skits, cleaned up, or invited others.

Wednesday Night Service Time to Change. Beginning August 6, our services will begin at 6:30 pm and will be that way until December 31. This is a trial run and the elders welcome your input whether the 6:30 time is permanent.

I THANK THE LORD

I thank Thee Lord for Jesus
Who leads me every day.
He takes my hand and guides me,
All along life’s way.

And for The loving comfort
In all the cares of life,
I thank Thee for relief, dear God,
From pain and stress and strife.

Beginning AUGUST 6 our Wednesday Night Bible Study will begin at 6:30 pm. We hope everyone will take advantage of this hour to come and learn more of God’s Word.

Ladies’ Day with Kristie Woodall speaking on “MOMENTS WITH THE MASTER”

Will You Not Forgive?

There once was a woman who hurt her friend. The friend gossiped widely about the hurt and repaid the hurt in a thousand slights and putdowns. Their relationship deteriorated, and they went to a wise woman in their village to get her help to restore their relationship. The wise woman sent the first woman into the field to bring back a boulder the size of a basketball. She sent the second woman into the field to bring back a thousand pebbles. When the women returned, the wise woman ordered the women to replace the stones exactly as before. The first woman could replace the boulder with great effort, but the second complained that it was impossible to restore the thousand pebbles to their original state.

The wise woman then told the first woman to repent for her large, hurtful action. The wise woman told the second that she had the harder task: to repent for the thousand small hurts she had inflicted (Everett L. Worthington, pp. 137-138, Hope Focused Marriage Counseling).

Sometimes it seems easier to gossip, put down, and hurt those who hurt us than it is to forgive. Forgiveness seems to be so many times unthinkable, or at least the last resort.

Yet forgiveness is the key towards reestablishing our relationships and also modeling the life that Christ would have us to live. It was Jesus who taught, “For if you forgive others their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you, but if you do not forgive others their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses” (Mt. 6:14-15).

Who do you need to forgive today?

A Challenge For This Week

DID YOU KNOW? Last week’s person was Debbie Couch. Is there really anyone out there that likes snakes?

Next person’s facts: ..

Can you guess who this person is? When this lady was young, everyone could see that she was the combination of brains and beauty. She was thoughtful, spiritual, and kind. Moreover, she was as attractive inwardly as she was outwardly. She married a successful, wealthy livestock owner. She was disappointed to learn that he was ungodly, ill-mannered, stubborn, controlling, argumentative, hot-tempered, miserly, and harsh. When he drank alcohol, his behavior became intolerable. If she had known before the wedding that he was like this, she never would have married him. He had concealed these qualities from her. After her foolish husband died, she married a warrior who became a famous king mentioned in the Bible.
