Something To Think About

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT: “LOOKING AT WHAT WE CAN’T SEE”

As I write these words, the sun is shining bright through my office window and the weather widget in the bottom corner of my computer screen has a snowflake on it. No, it's not trying to tell me that it is snowing now. Instead, it is trying to tell me what is coming. Times like this can feel awkward in our work and in our homes. We are told to make preparations for a winter storm that is coming even before the storm has formed. There is that mixture of anticipation (“Are we going to get a few days off from school????”) and hesitation (“They have been wrong before!”). Do we go to the grocery store or wait a few more days? Do we need to change our travel plans? I have heard and asked all of these questions in the last 24 hours...all while the sun is shining outside my window. It can be hard to know how to live in light of what we can't see yet.

In Genesis 15:5, Abraham is questioning how God's promise of descendants will be fulfilled since he and Sarah have no children and they are seemingly well past the age when having children will be possible. In response, God brings Abraham outside and says, “Look toward heaven and count the stars, if you are able to count them. So shall your descendants be.” In this moment, God was working in Abraham's life to help him move beyond what had been or what his present reality was. God asked Abraham to look to the stars and begin to develop a heart for the not yet. As Abraham lifted his eyes to the sky, God was inviting him to look at what he couldn't see yet.

We are inviting our congregation to let the Spirit of God work in our lives to develop a “Heart for the Not Yet”. As part of the theme for the Baptist General Association of Virginia for 2026, I will be preaching a 6-week sermon series that will invite us to imagine the possibilities of what God wants to do with and through us and challenge us to move forward in uncertain times with hope and confidence in God's power and God's promises. As part of this series, each week we will be inviting the congregation to write a phrase or 1-sentence prayer in response to a specific prompt. We will collect these phrases and prayers and our Creatives Ministry will create paper stars from these written prayers that will be part of a hanging mobile that will be displayed in our church and, ultimately, at the Baptist General Association of Virginia's Annual Meeting November 9-11 in Virginia Beach.

My plan had been I was going to start this series on Sunday, January 25. However, if the little weather widget in the bottom corner of my computer screen is right, you won't have heard that first sermon yet. Instead, I will start the series on Sunday, February 1.

Whenever the series gets started, here is what we will be talking about:

- “The Waiting Heart” (Hosea 11:1-11) - How do we synchronize with the heartbeat of God who waits, listens for and loves those who aren't even looking to come home yet?
- “The Edge of Belief” (John 4:16-26, 39-42) – How does God work in the space between doubt and faith?
- “The Church Becoming” (Acts 6:1-6) – How do followers of Christ learn to see those who we have never looked for?
- “The Work Before the Harvest” (Nehemiah 3:1, John 5:2-9) – How do we plant the seeds others will reap the harvest of?
- “The Mission Still Unfolding” (Romans 15:18-29) - How does our “not yet” become both the goal we strive for and the opportunity to do that which we can't imagine?
- “The Creative Heart of God” (John 1:1-18) – How will the next generation experience the beating heart of our loving God in their lives?

I invite you to spend time with these Bible passages in preparation for each Sunday's theme and to spend time in prayer each week asking God to help you look for that which you can't see but which the Lord is bringing forth. Could be a really good snow day activity!

- Pastor Mark

Being Gregarious

What day is it?

This is Holocaust Remembrance Day

On this date:

In 1880, Thomas Edison patented the electric incandescent lamp. In 1926, John Baird, a Scottish inventor, demonstrated a pictorial transmission machine called a television.

Need advice?

Although fancy pots may look pretty, the best kind of container to grow plants is an unglazed clay pot. It's porous, which allows the soil to breathe, and the hole at the bottom makes it difficult to over-water. Be wary of both plastic pots and decorative glazed clay pots.

LOL:

Country Preacher: "In hellfire, there will be weepin', wailin' and gnashin' of teeth!" Parishoner: "Parson, I ain't got no teeth." Preacher: "False teeth will be provided."

Bu-dum-dum-chhh

Spiritual Nourishment:

Galatians 5:22-23 "The fruit of the Spirit is love, patience, kindness, faith, gentleness, self-control. Against such things there is no law."

John Ausmus writes:

I love baseball. This is a sport that relies on a team for a successful outcome. Baseball is also the only American sport where, during a stoppage in play, a manager or coach can approach an umpire to dispute a rule or argue a call. Unfortunately, we've all watched a manager throwing a tantrum, kicking dirt on the plate, or verbally abusing an umpire. We've also seen the umpire retaliating in anger and sometimes losing control. It's hard to have someone yell at us or challenge our character in any setting, but especially in front of peers and spectators in a stadium.

The Apostle Paul wrote that the Holy Spirit produces self-control in those he indwells. We can't obtain this fruit by natural means; it is produced only when we look to Christ's control of our lives. Granted, our sinful nature wants to yell, get angry, show off, or get the last word. Even though I have been a Christian for twenty-five years, I have often forgotten to give control of my favorite game to the Lord. But when I've yielded my life – including baseball – to Him, I've been changed and have witnessed the fruit of self-control grow stronger.

When we accept Jesus as our Savior, we begin the greatest adventure of our lives: becoming like Him. Others will see a picture of Christ by our example, especially when the fruit of the Holy Spirit is formed within us. When He produces self-control in us, we are able to see our situation more clearly, control our emotions and actions, and allow Him to guide us in handling our circumstances correctly. Living a Spirit-filled life means living in harmony with the life God intended us to live and bearing fruit that will last.

1. In what areas of your life do you need more self-control?
2. How do you react when confronted?
3. What can you do today to allow the Holy Spirit to make you more like Christ?

Hymn of the Month

HYMN OF THE MONTH FEBRUARY 2026: "CREATOR GOD, CREATING STILL"

Our hymn of the month for February helps us align our thoughts toward the six-week sermon series called "A Heart for the Not Yet". Each week in the series, there will be a time in the service where people will write out a prayer or prayer request related to that Sunday's theme. Our staff will collect these and join our deacon prayer team in praying over them. Blair and the Creatives Ministry will be transforming the prayer statements into a visual presentation that will be displayed at the 2026 Annual meeting of the Baptist General Assembly of VA in November.

Given our creative prayers project, I have chosen "Creator God, Creating Still" as our hymn for the month of February, a hymn written by Jane Parker Huber in 1977. The hymn focuses on the renewing, dynamic, and creative work of each Person of our Triune God: Creator (Father), Redeemer (Son), and Sustainer (Holy Spirit). I remembered this hymn from the 1991 Baptist Hymnal where its text is matched with the "O God, Our Help in Ages Past" tune.

Jane was born in 1926 to missionary parents as they served in China, honoring the long line of Presbyterian leaders in her heritage. As a young woman, she returned to the States to attend Wellesley College in Massachusetts to earn her Bachelor of Arts degree. Later, she received an honorary doctorate from Hanover College in Indiana.

In addition to being known as a hymn writer of scores of hymns, she served in leadership coordinating the Presbyterian Women, a nationwide community of women supporting faith, missions, justice, and peace and supported by the Presbyterian Church, USA. Within her work for this body, she served on the nationwide council on Women and the Church, also serving on the Joint Committee on Women, Social Justice and Peacemaking Ministry Unit, and the General Assembly Council. In 1992, she and her husband, Bill, received an award from Hanover College once more: the Alumni Achievement Award. Later at age 76, Jane received the "Woman of Faith Award" from Presbyterian Women PC (USA). Outside the Presbyterian circle, Jane's gifts and advocacy earned her recognition by Church Women United as a "Valiant Woman."

Jane went to be with her Lord in 2002. For Jane's part, she was more concerned with authentic faith expression than titles. She wanted "fresh words to familiar tunes" so that they would be more accessible to people in worship. Written on her Woman of Faith Award is this citation: "Jane Parker Huber's creative renderings of "fresh words to familiar tunes" have inspired Christians to sing hymns with expansive, gender-inclusive language and rethink all of the images used for God and people."

Creator God, creating still by will and Word and deed:
Create a new humanity to meet the present need.
May it be so, indeed. Amen

- Pastor Connie

Makers on Mission: Ditty Bags

Come and learn how to make cotton ditty bags to support the upcoming WMU mission trip in March!

Please let Blair know you are planning to come by calling the church office or emailing her at communications@melrosebaptist.org!

MAKERS ON MISSION: DITTY BAG SEWING CLASS

In March, the Melrose Baptist Women's Missionary Union will be traveling with the area WMU groups on a mission trip to Nickelsville, VA to hand out books and personal hygiene items to local school children. They place the hygiene items in handmade cotton ditty bags and ask area churches to help make new bags every year.

As part of our Makers on Mission series, we are hosting a sewing class on Friday, February 13 from 10 AM- 1 PM to provide instruction and patterns on how to make these cotton bags. This class is being taught by Cindy Perdue, a local seamstress and quilter, and she has designed the class so that you do not need a sewing machine during the class. This helps those who are unable to travel with their sewing machine. During the class Cindy will demonstrate how to make and finish these bags and will provide a pattern to help cut out pieces to make bags on your own.

Registration for the class is requested by letting Blair (communications@melrosebaptist.org) know you are coming so we can properly prepare. The only thing you need to bring to the class is:

- Sewing machine (if you are able, if not, no worries!) with a full bobbin of neutral thread
- Scissors
- Pins
- Seam ripper
- Seam gauge or sewing ruler
- Marking pencil (or pen or chalk)
- Something to drink in a closed container
- Something small for lunch
